A Year's Worth Of Going On

The spirit of the Pioneers overflowed this year, in sports as well as academically. Friendships were regained after the somehow lost summer months, and Boswell's campus continued to grow, adding a new gymnasium and fine arts center to the master plan.

Pioneer athletes did their share of expanding, too. They were supported by the student body, faculty, and parents through their fighting times, and somehow the students managed to keep up their academics when they were not over-heated by "football fever".

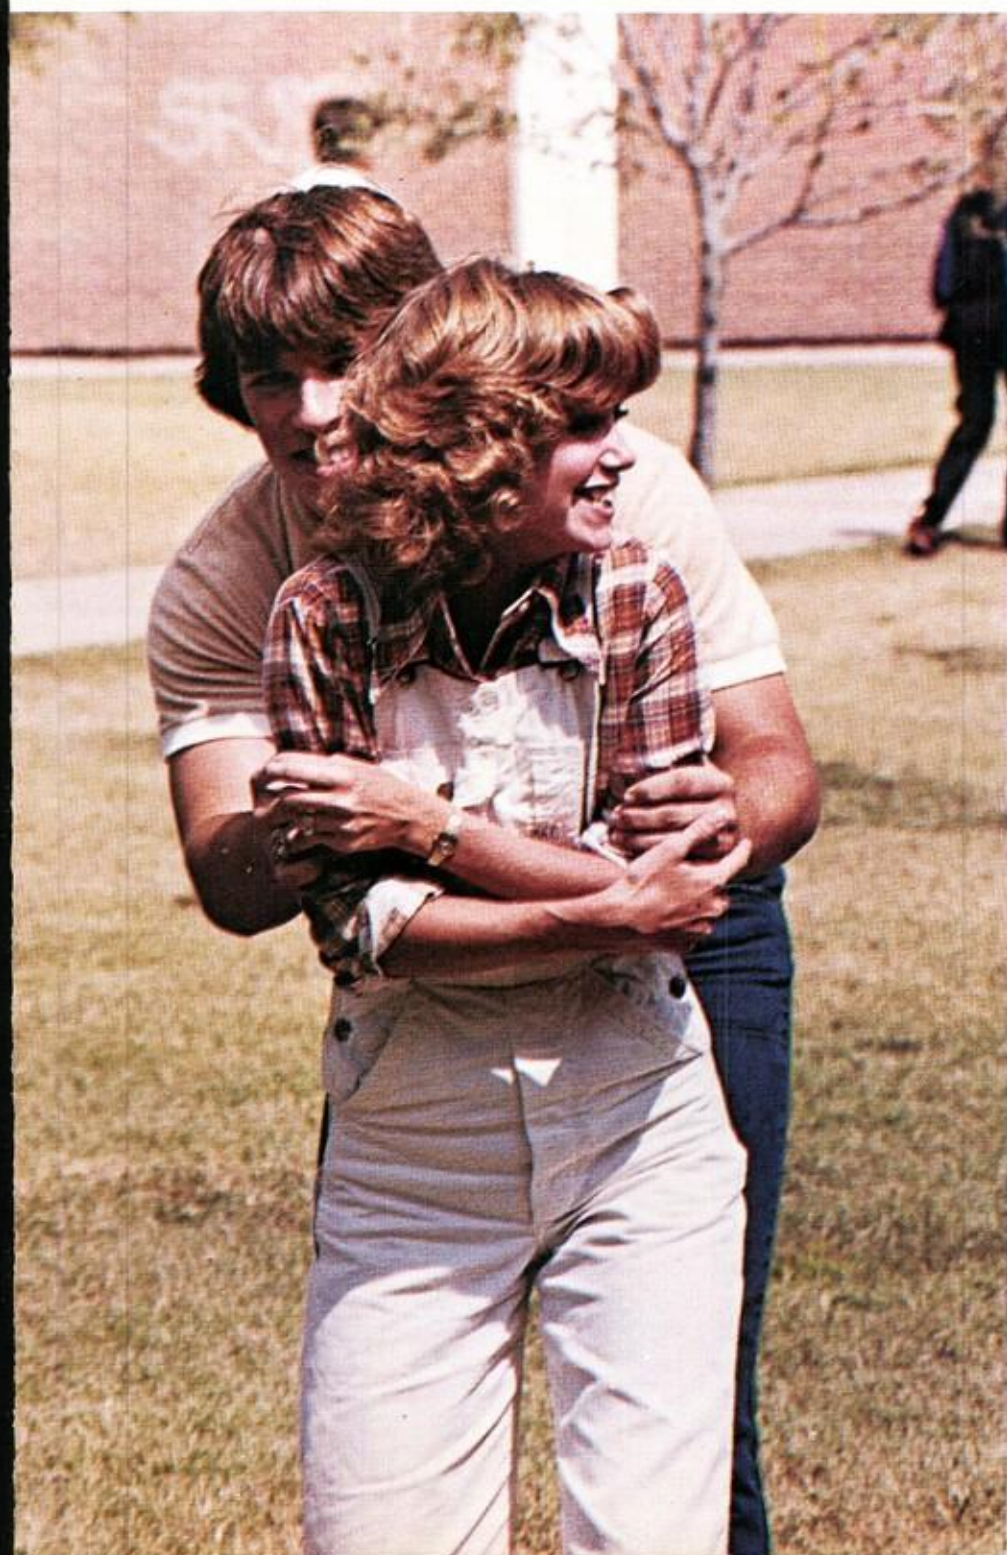

Spare time, which was difficult to find, was worshipped and consumed heartily. Hobbies were turned to for relief, or many students just planned a "night in the town". It didn't matter how time was spent by the Pioneers, they managed to go on and on.

a) Even running in rain on Boswell's campus could be fun as seniors Laurie Ware and Carter Horner find. b) While strolling through a field of wild flowers, Sheri Means and Rick Steppick enjoy afternoon sunshine. c) The assignments given by teachers never ceased to amaze students, especially freshmen, who were new to the "system". d) While working the lathe, metal shop workers admire their work. e) Hamming it up was something Kevin Otto did well, victimizing fellow senior Debbie Wagner. f) Sailing on peaceful Eagle Mountain Lake was a favorite pasttime for some students.

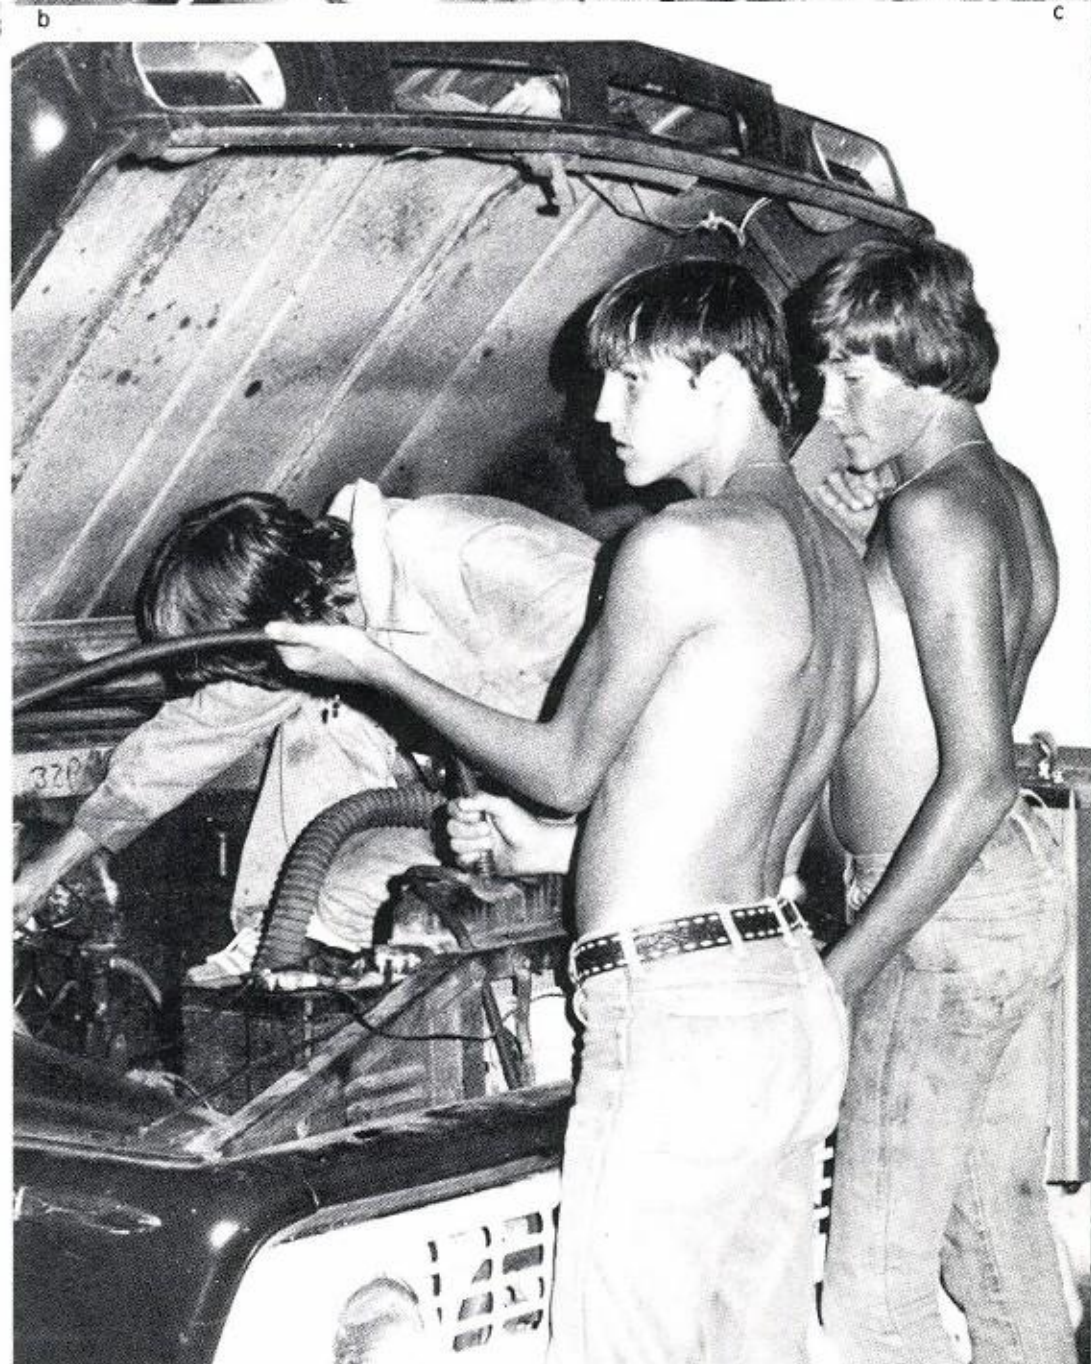

A Challenge Of the Minds

From computers to cosmetology, students at Boswell were exposed to a wide variety of curriculum. From the basics of English, math, and science, to the areas of the arts and trades, they carried on the tradition of trying to be the best.

With their noses in books or feet on the peddle of a Singer zig-zag, Boswell students were kept busy with what they had come to do, learn. But it never ended. From day one, we were bombarded with vocabulary, snowed under by mathematics, and overrun by science. Teachers had a constant supply of artillery in which to blot-out the darkness of ignorance and show students the light. Seemingly incomprehensible trigometric functions stayed on the minds of many of Miss Ott's students until the early morning hours, while others battled with simple equations. As freshman English students dove into "Romeo and Juliet", seniors made it through "Hamlet" as biologists were uncovering the mysteries of life, and history students were retracing the steps of ancestors. If not in a classroom, ICT, DE, VOE, and Ag Co-op gave students a chance to give the "real world" a try and at the same time, get credits toward graduation. Along with the books and the work came the excitement of clubs which sprung up around the campus. They offered relief from "brain strain" and time to spend with friends.

Looking back over the year, it was easier to realize that learning never ends. There are always new goals to conquer. And there will always be Pioneers meeting these goals, Pioneers who are going on and on.

Cheering Loud and Strong Fans Capture Football Fever

Helping to spur excitement during Pioneer games, the football fans ad-libbed with their signs and cheers to build up spirit.

"Pioneer spirit never dies" proved true as fans, both family and friends, cheered Boswell teams on to a hard-hitting season.

Parents could be seen sitting by friends Friday night after Friday night sharing the joys and pains as their sons scampered across the field, hopefully in the right direction. And girlfriends watched apprehensively when their favorite players hobbled to the sidelines wincing. Huddled together in blankets at the winter games, fans sacrificed their warmth with their large coffee thermoses to watch play after play in the cold.

The games weren't the only time the Pioneer fans displayed their everlasting spirit. Starting Thursday evenings it wasn't unusual for members of each class to concoct their own pep rally ideas to make ready for Friday mornings. Then the students competed by classes for the spirit stick to let the fighting Pioneers know once again how much the student body and faculty supported them.

Although the spirit of the Pioneers and their followers didn't die, the football season did end, leaving the memories and the never-ending battle of going on and on.

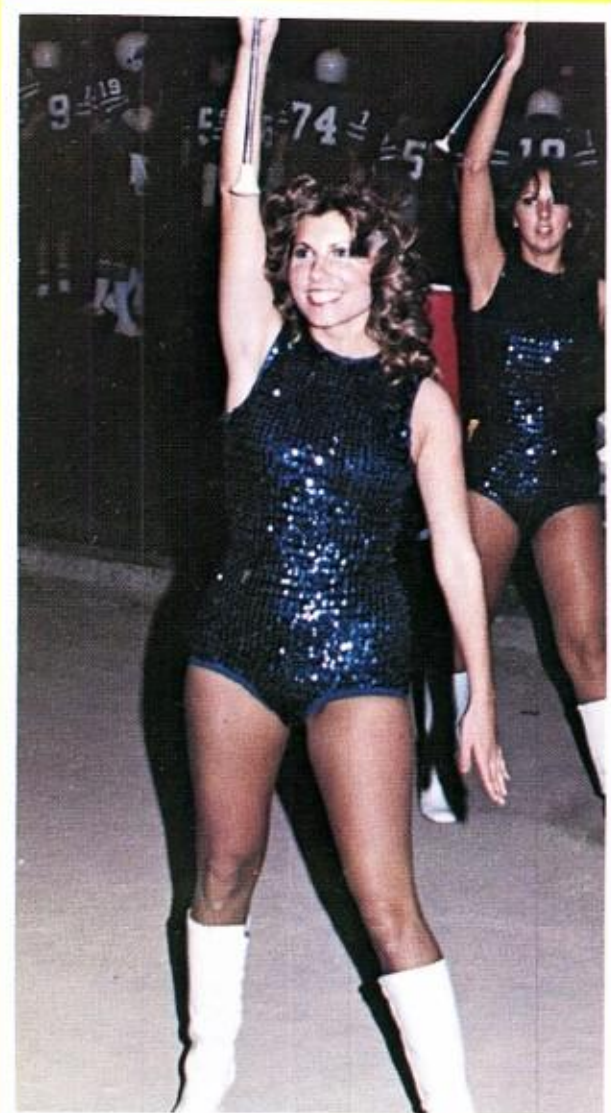

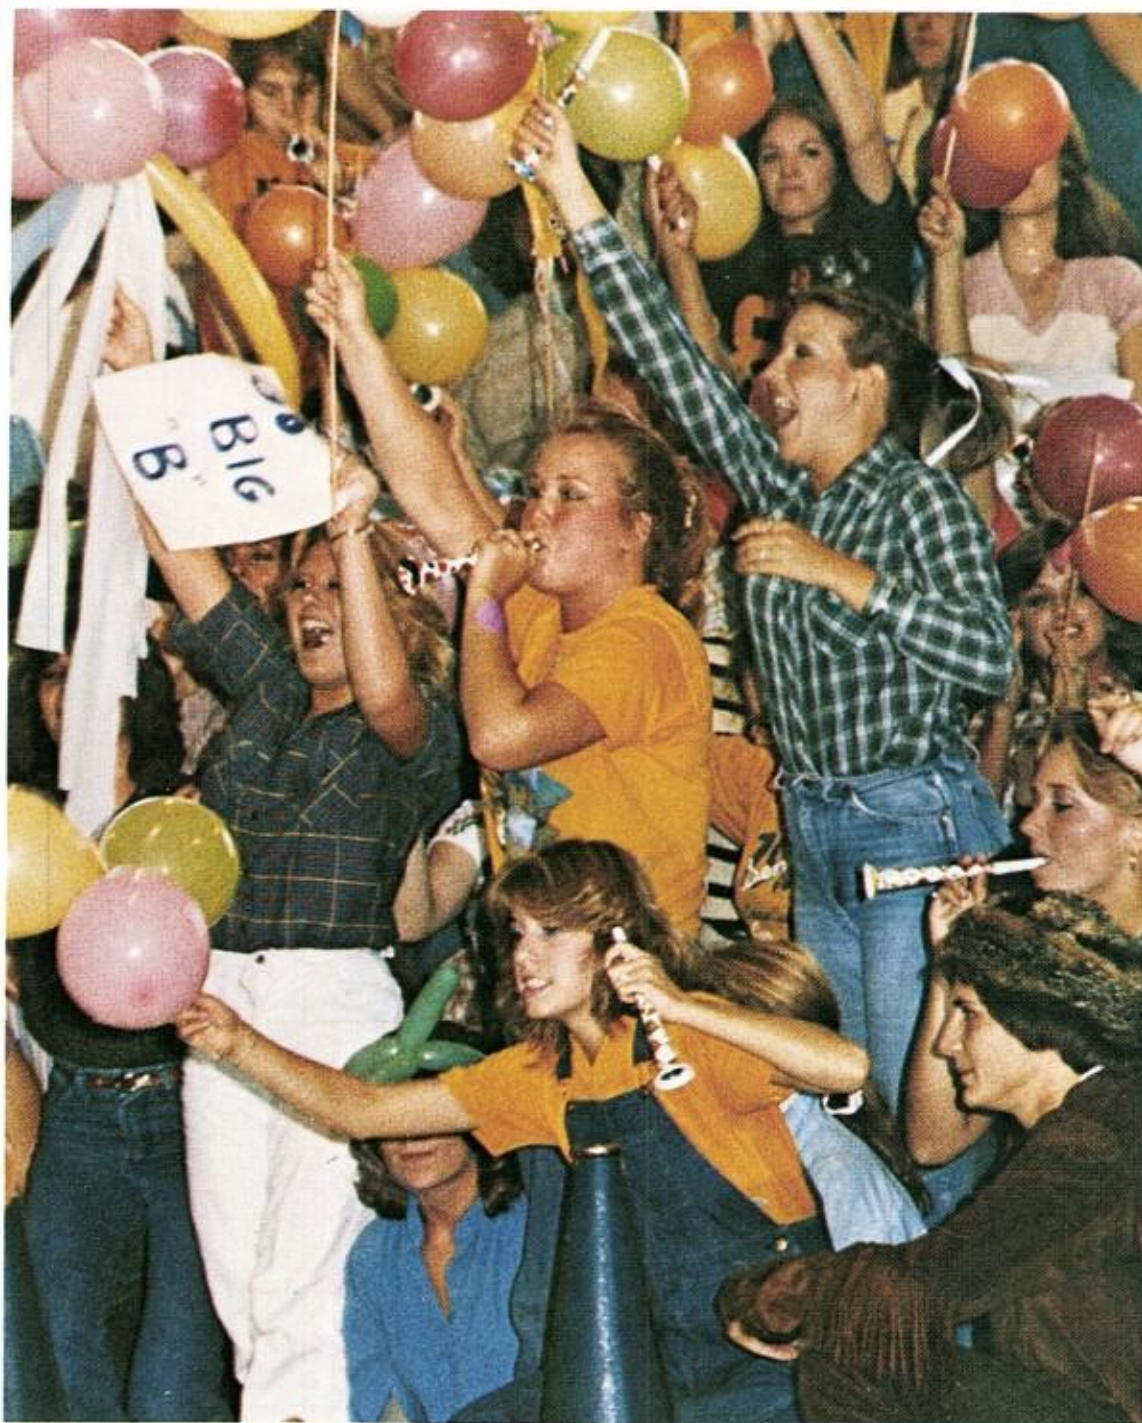

The spectators weren't the only one's involved in the action, as our very own Pioneer men were ready, willing and able to lend a yell at a pep rally and sometimes on Friday nights they could be caught unsuspecting on the sidelines with a jump or two as the ball fell in the Pioneers' favor.

In the true tradition of Boswell, the Pioneers were once again bubbling on and on in spirit and on the field.

Gym Has Formal Opening; Arts Center Rises Upward

Pioneers continued busting out at the seams and Boswell's campus continued to expand. When the workers started the cement pouring, the result was the "super-gym", a giant 2,318 seat sport facility, opened for use in October.

Construction then moved westward on campus to the site of the Fine Arts Building, the future home of Boswell drama productions and its band complex.

More new faces appeared on campus with an enrollment over-flowing with 1100 students. The new buildings planned were to provide places for the student body to grow and use in expanding activities.

The gym came to life by being the site for the 1979 homecoming pep rally as well as having its formal opening in November with both boys' and girls' varsity teams playing in their first home games of the season. Four new dressing rooms were fully equipped with showers and blow dryers, and painted in the proud Boswell colors of Blue and Gold. The new structure, with two courts, will facilitate every athletic event from basketball to tennis.

Students watched with eager anticipation as the steel beams of the Fine Arts Center were built up higher and higher. The $2.4 million project is expected to seat 1,500 together on the floor and the balcony. The center also contains practice rooms, dressing rooms, rooms for building sets and sewing costumes, as well as the "green room".

The Boswell campus expanded a great deal over the school year, providing more space for Pioneers to grow.

a) Sitting in new bleacher chairs, girls' Coach Donald Enax admires the vastness of the new Pioneer gym. b) Two of the Fine Arts Center work crew discuss plans during a long, hot workday. c) A view of the new gym from the student parking lot. d) A workman hangs in there while working on the Fine Arts Center. e) Construction workers put the pieces of the Fine Arts Building and Band Hall together.

Hobbies Provide Rest, Relaxation

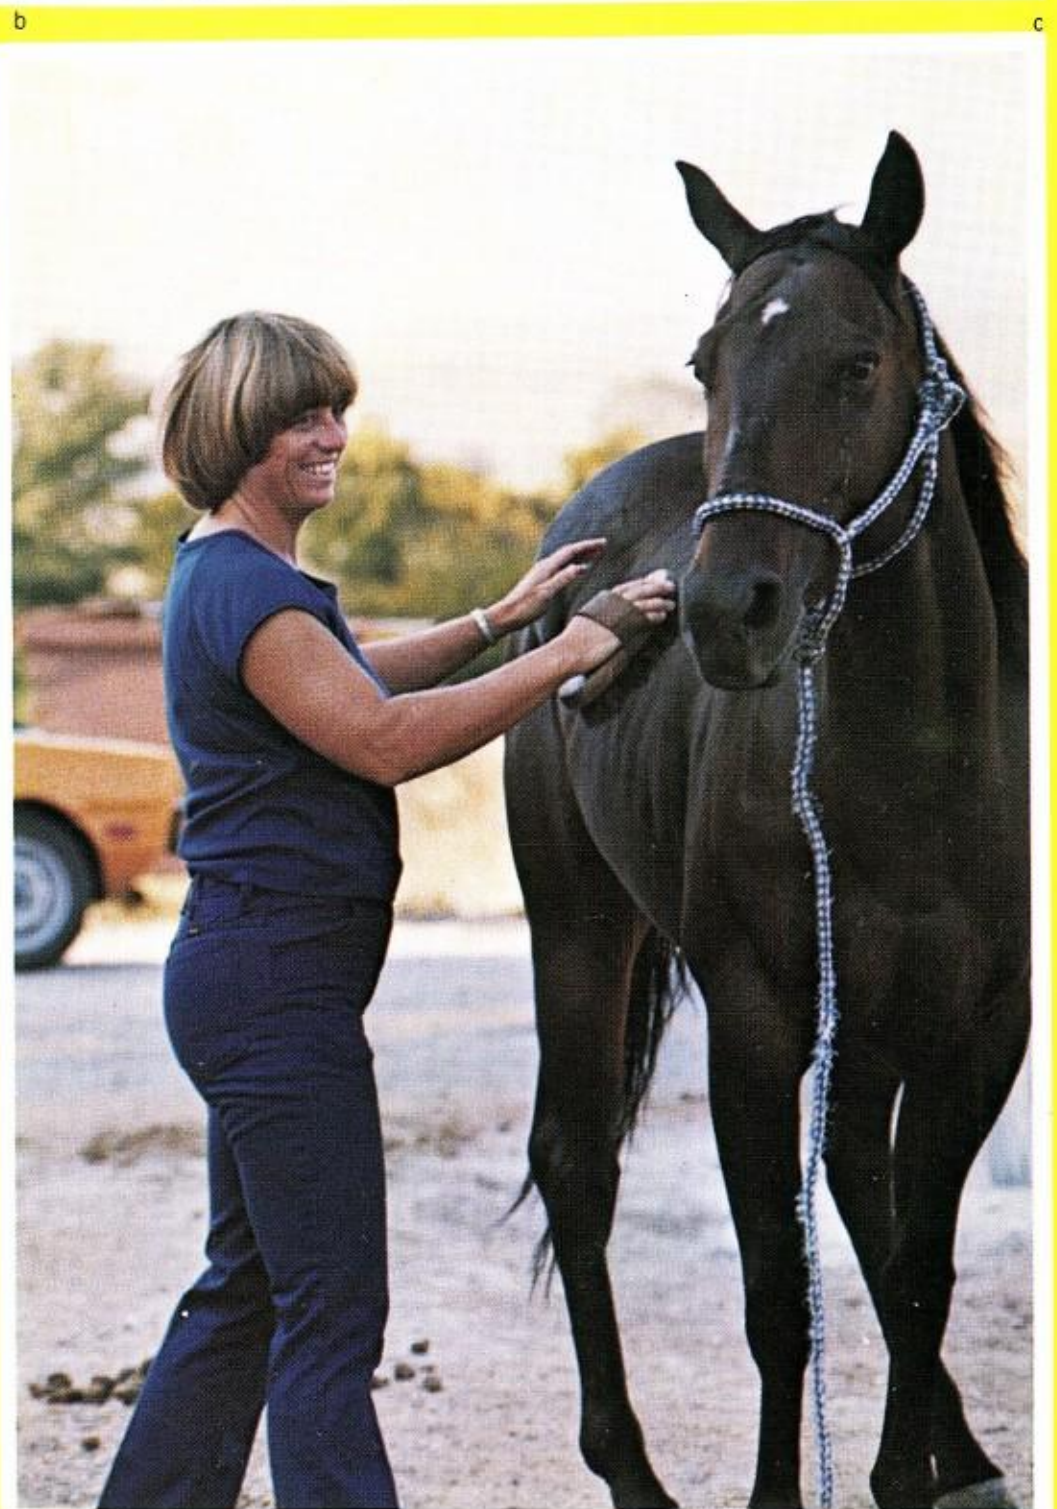

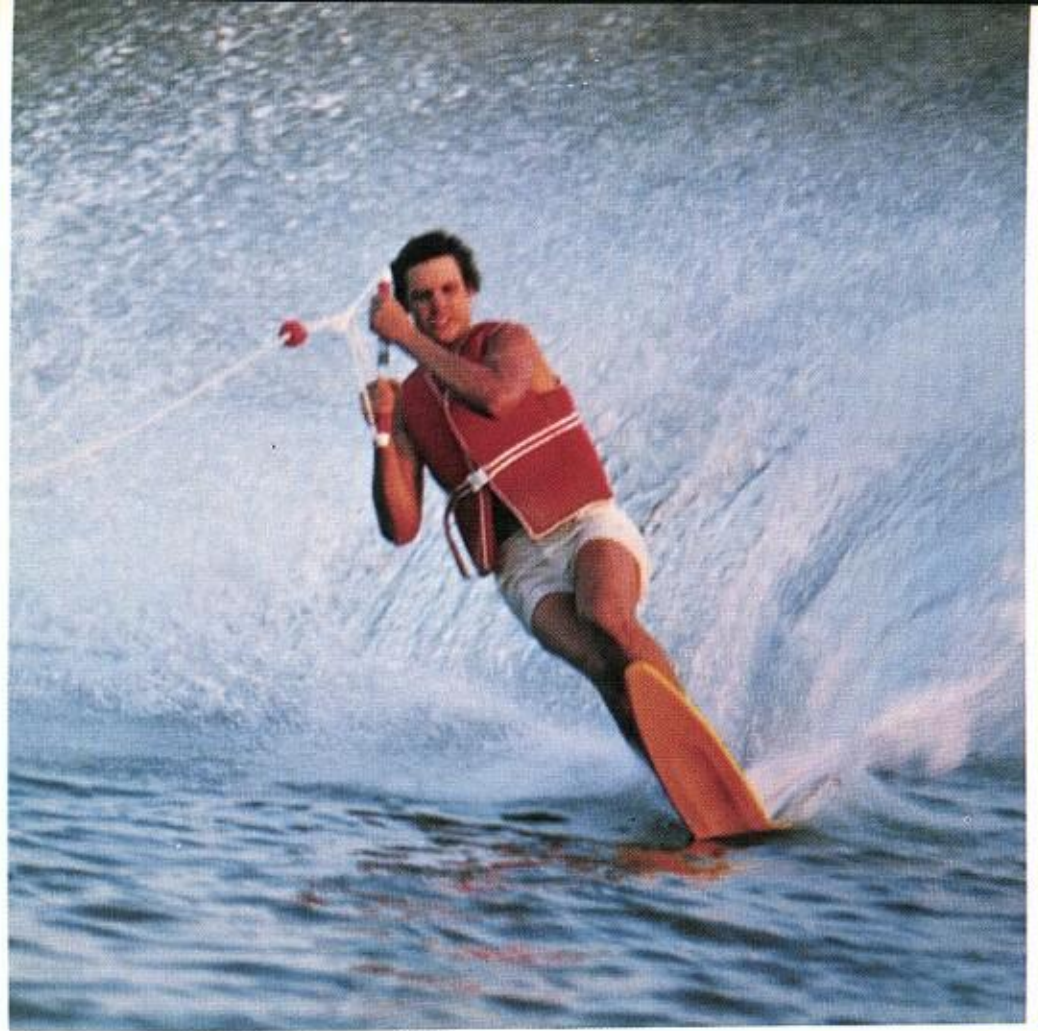

Putting a horse through its paces with the glowing red sun setting calmly in the west, or checking in with the tower before taking off down a long runway into the sky are some of the things that people like Laura Wright and John Barber do in their spare time. Whether it be battling the windy whitecaps while racing a sailboat or tinkering with minute motorcycle parts, Boswell students seem to find many different things to amuse themselves.

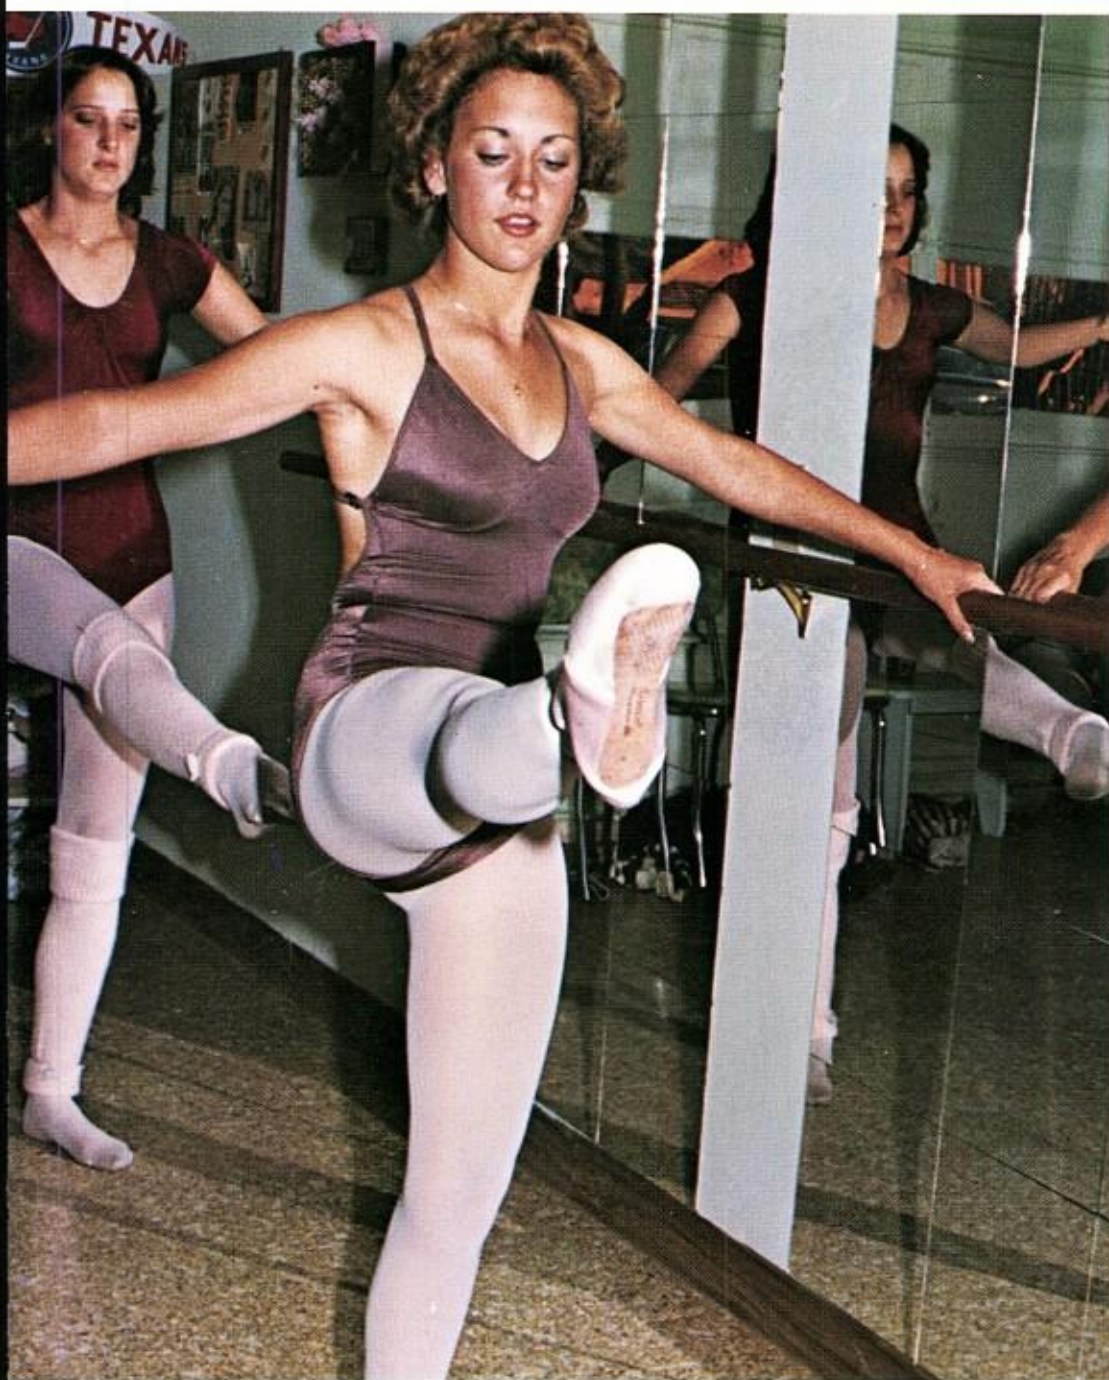

There are different seasons for different hobbies, so while Mike Beckner may be skiing out on the lake during the hot summer vacation, someone else may be all bundled up, bombing the slopes in Red River during the icy winter months. All in all, people seem to find some kind of hobby that fits their personality and meets their definitions of a good time.

Some people prefer to continue their hobbies for years at a time even passing them down as a family tradition by collecting trinkets such as Diana Wartelle's growing camel collection. These things may be worthless to some, but priceless to their owner. Among this never ending list of "collector's items" are such things as t-shirts, koala bears, matchbooks, napkins, straws, autographs, glasses, ticket stubs, spoons, plants, keys, or records.

Rounding up the calves to try another run is an everyday routine of vice-principal Angie Averhoff. Every day after putting in her hours of work at school, Mrs. Averhoff ventures to the stables to "saddle up" into her hobby.

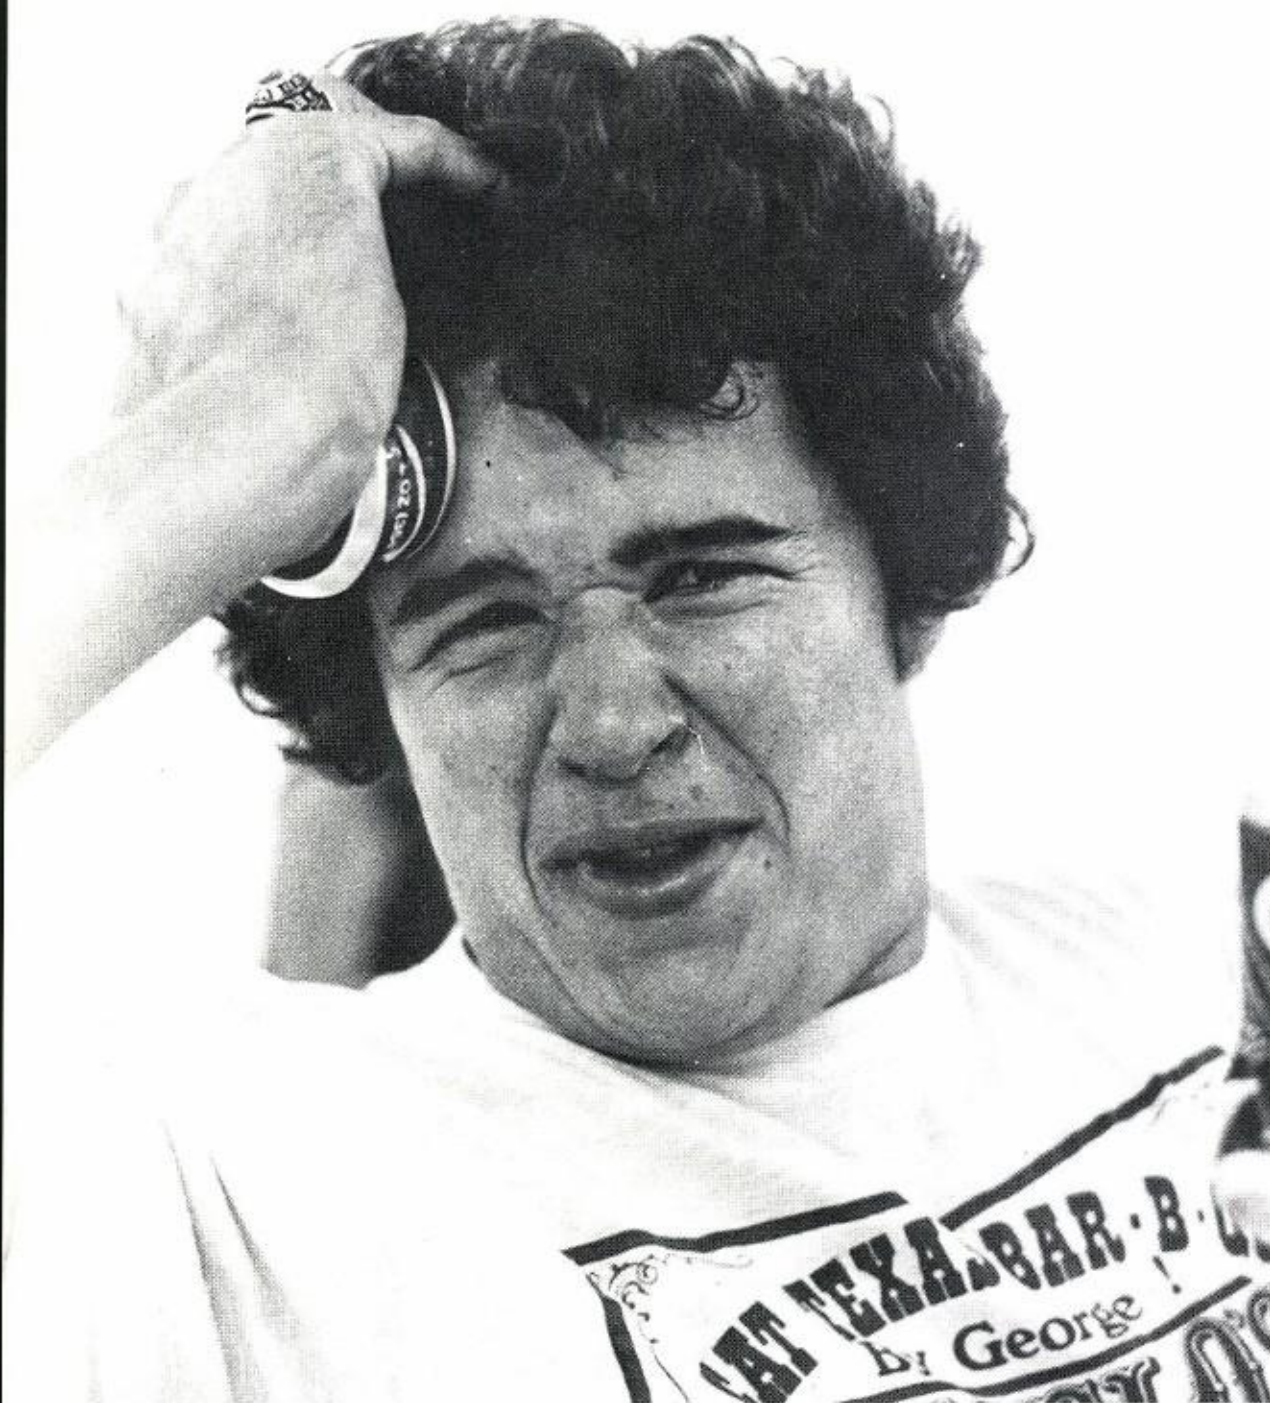

With the school days coming one after another and students groaning more and more, there is still a means of "escape" with a hobby whether it be Janell Norris working on the bar while practicing ballet or Dana McElreath talking to her plants to help them grow. As long as it appeals to the individual, it's just another step for Pioneers who tend to keep to growing on and on.

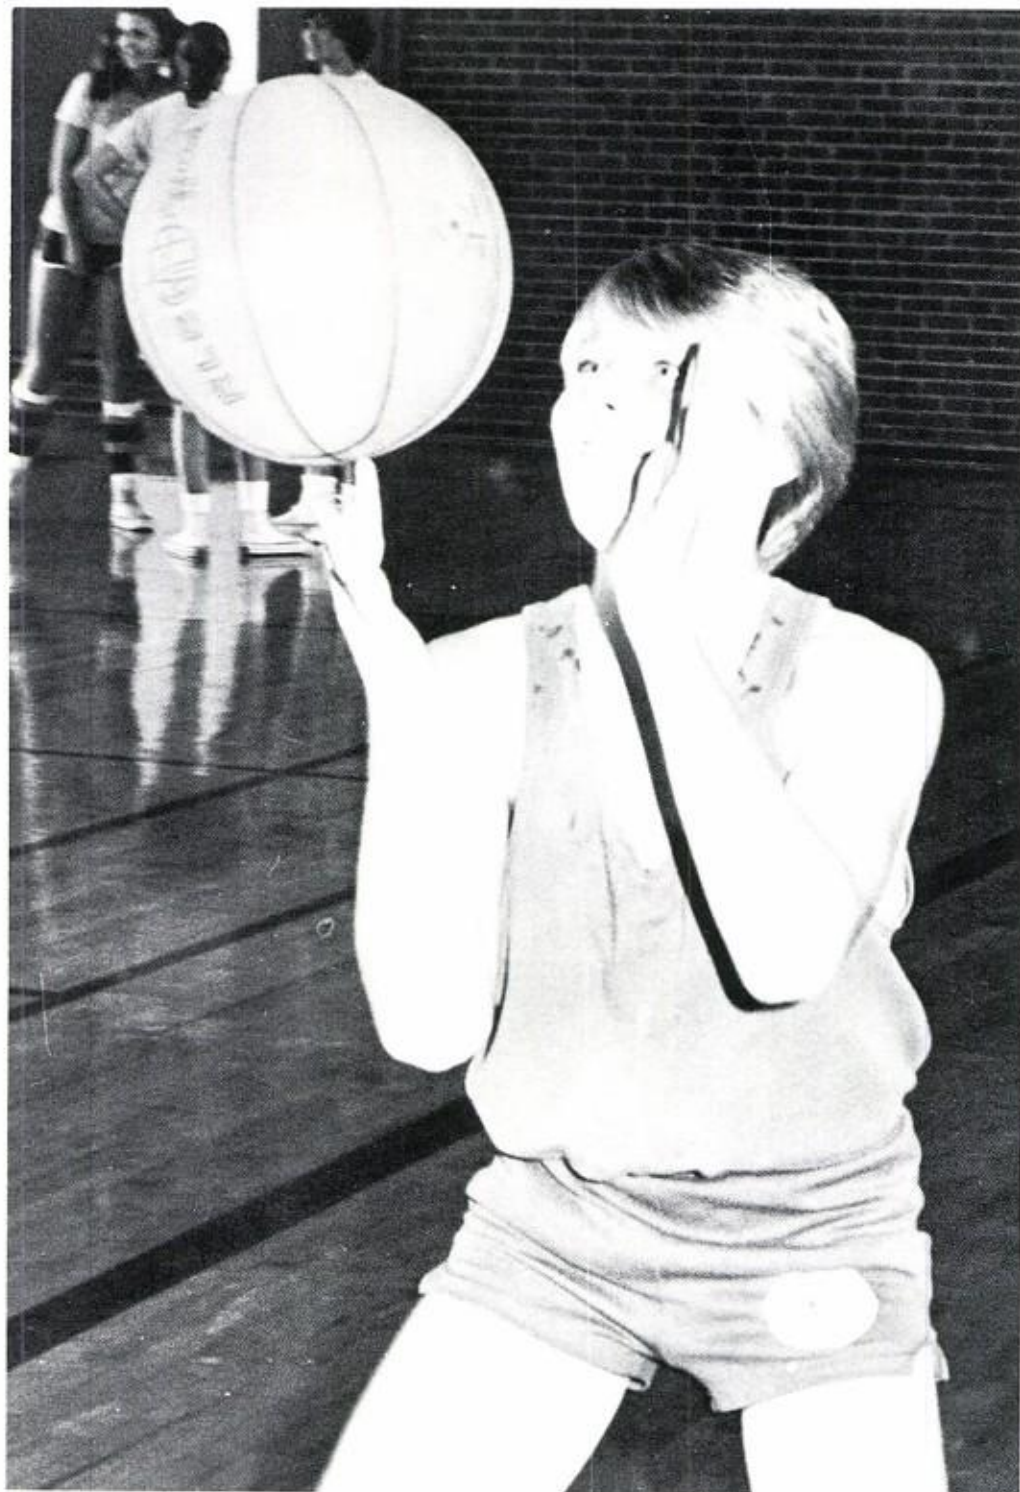

a) Diana Wartelle combs the hair of one of her many camels in her collection. b) Mike Beckner shows his water-skiing talent as he cuts a rooster tail. c) Vice Principal Angie Averhoff grooms her favorite horse at Lake Country Stables before an after-school ride. d) Junior Janell Norris practices on the bar while enjoying her hobby of ballet. e) Senior John Barber makes a last minute check before taking off into the wild blue yonder in his plane. f) Senior Dana McElreath waters her thirsty plants.

a) Senior Mark Rauch demonstrates his limitless resource of strength as he crushes Dr. Pepper cans against his forehead. b) Two students work fervently to arrange their notebooks during the precious few minutes between classes. c) With a few minutes to herself, senior Erin Hooper looks back peacefully on all the happenings of the day. d) During the spirited pep rallies, a vast variety of signs and contraptions were displayed. e) Bodie Wartelle shows off his vast athletic genius by twirling a basketball on only one finger. f) A couple takes advantage of a quiet moment or two during lunch.

In the true spirit of Pioneers, the student body, faculty, and supporting fans, whose everlasting memories will go on and on, we look to the most meaningful words of the past and present students of W.E. Boswell High School, our alma mater:

The blue, gold, and white,
We love so dear,
Boswell High.

Our alma mater
We will cheer,
Boswell High.

Lift up your voice,
And join our song,
Sing our praises
Loud and strong.

Pioneers go on and on Boswell High.

Night Lights

Although many spent a lot of their time dedicated to the books and school, weekends provided "party time" for the energetic students of Boswell High. Ranging from "dollar-night" at the drive-in to after-game victory dances to the local discos, everyone picked their own places to relax and socialize away from campus and curriculum.

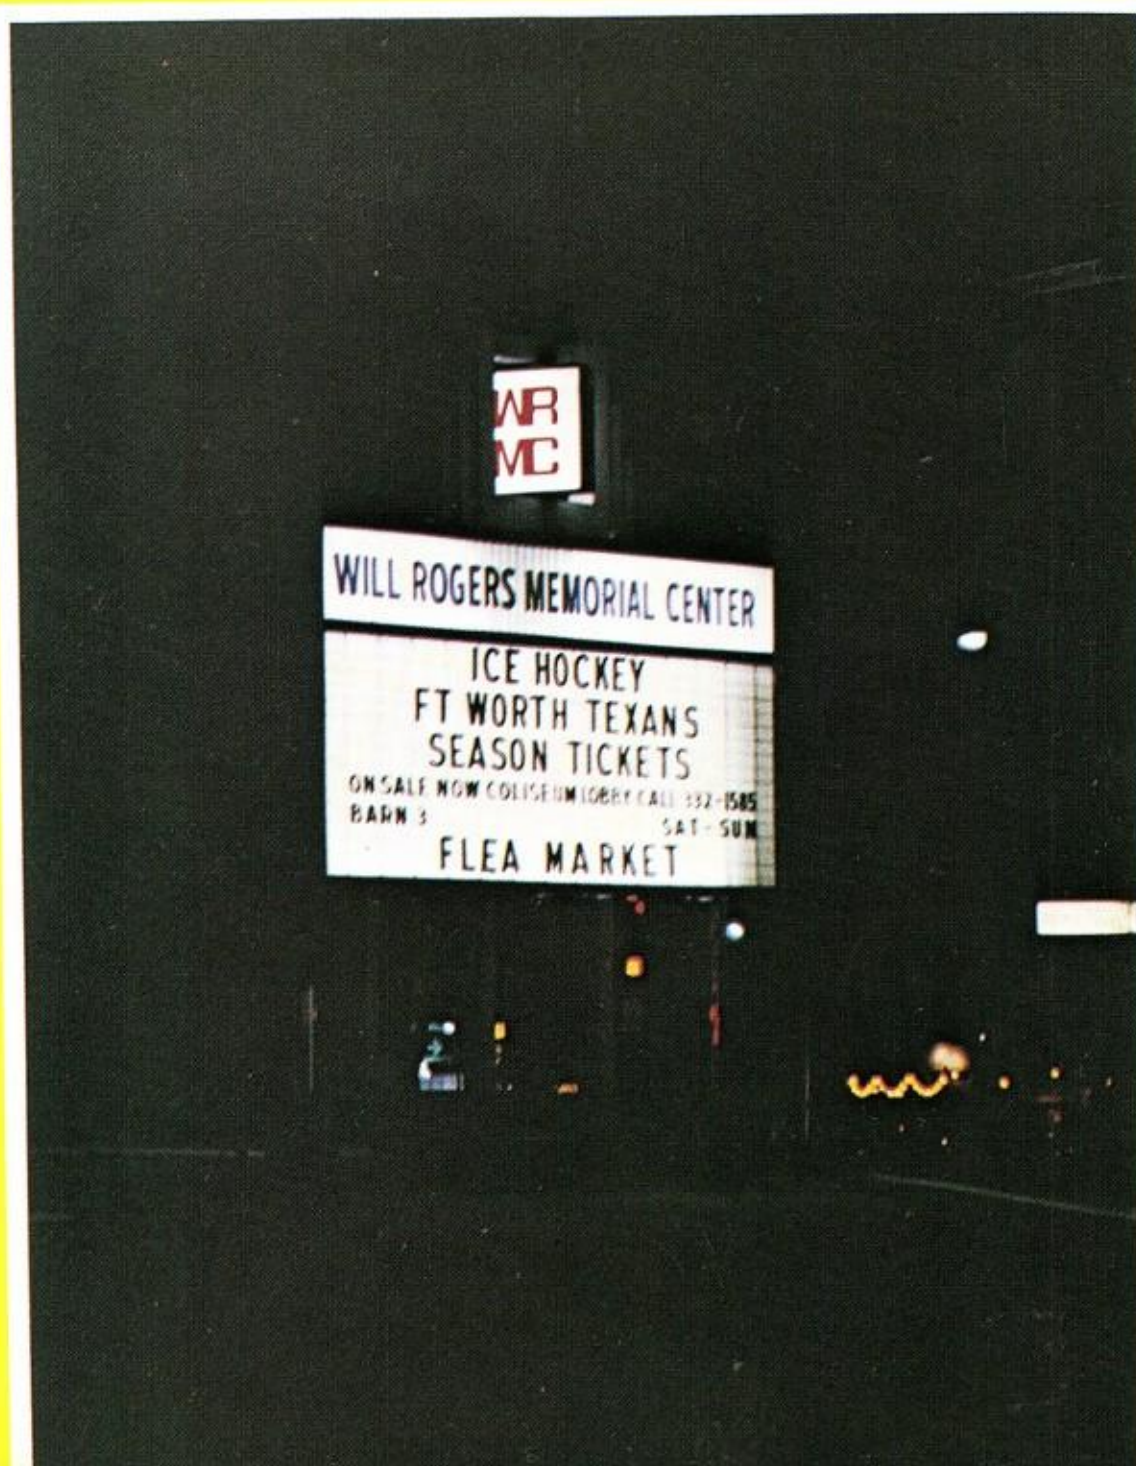

Even though many thought the disco craze would burn out, the fever was regenerated as people continued listening to the music, buying the records and paying the admission price to the lighted disco floor to dance the "last dance" with Donna Summer.

Planning parties for special occasions and weekends became a regular routine and students never wanted to stop celebrating in groups, big and small.

Music-loving Pioneers taking a "Journey" to see just how far from a "Tragedy" the "Bee Gees" really were was how many "danced the night away" with Van Halen at the TCCC.

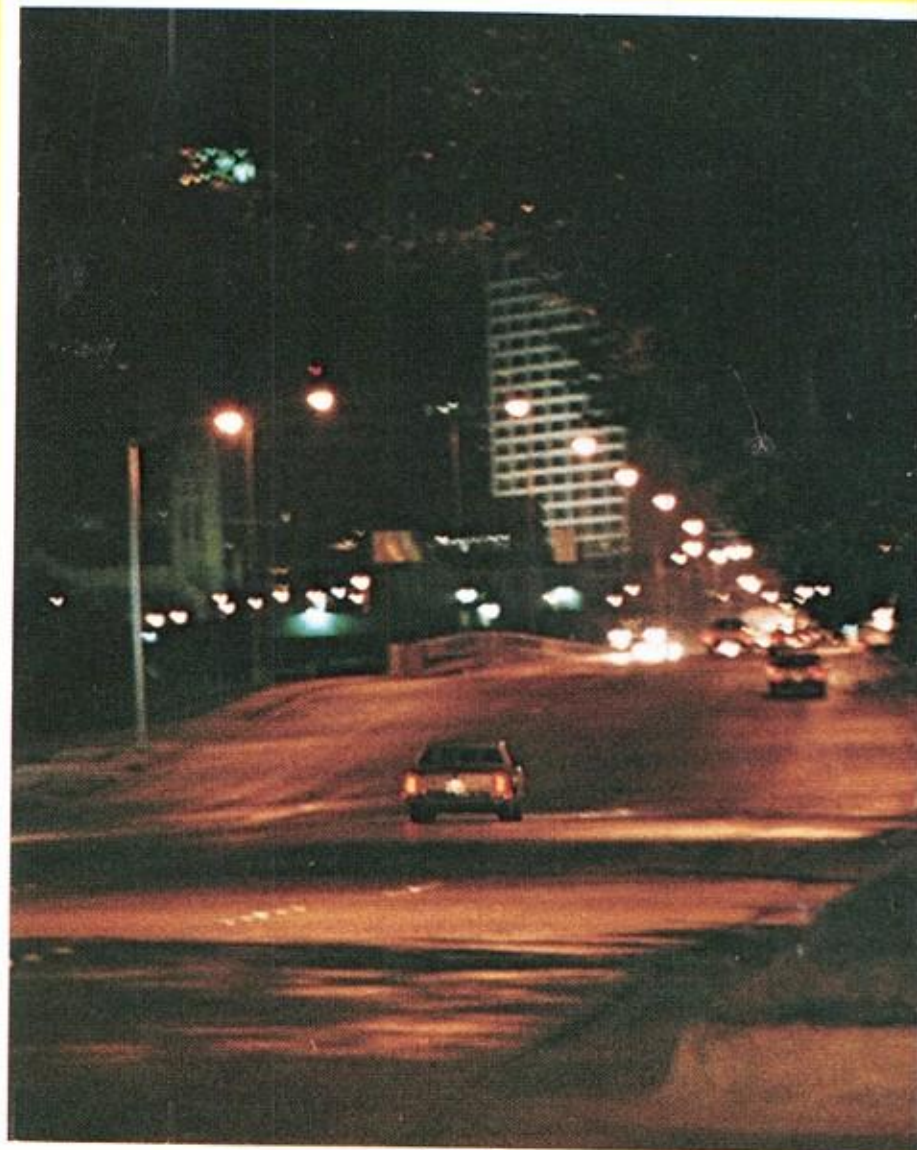

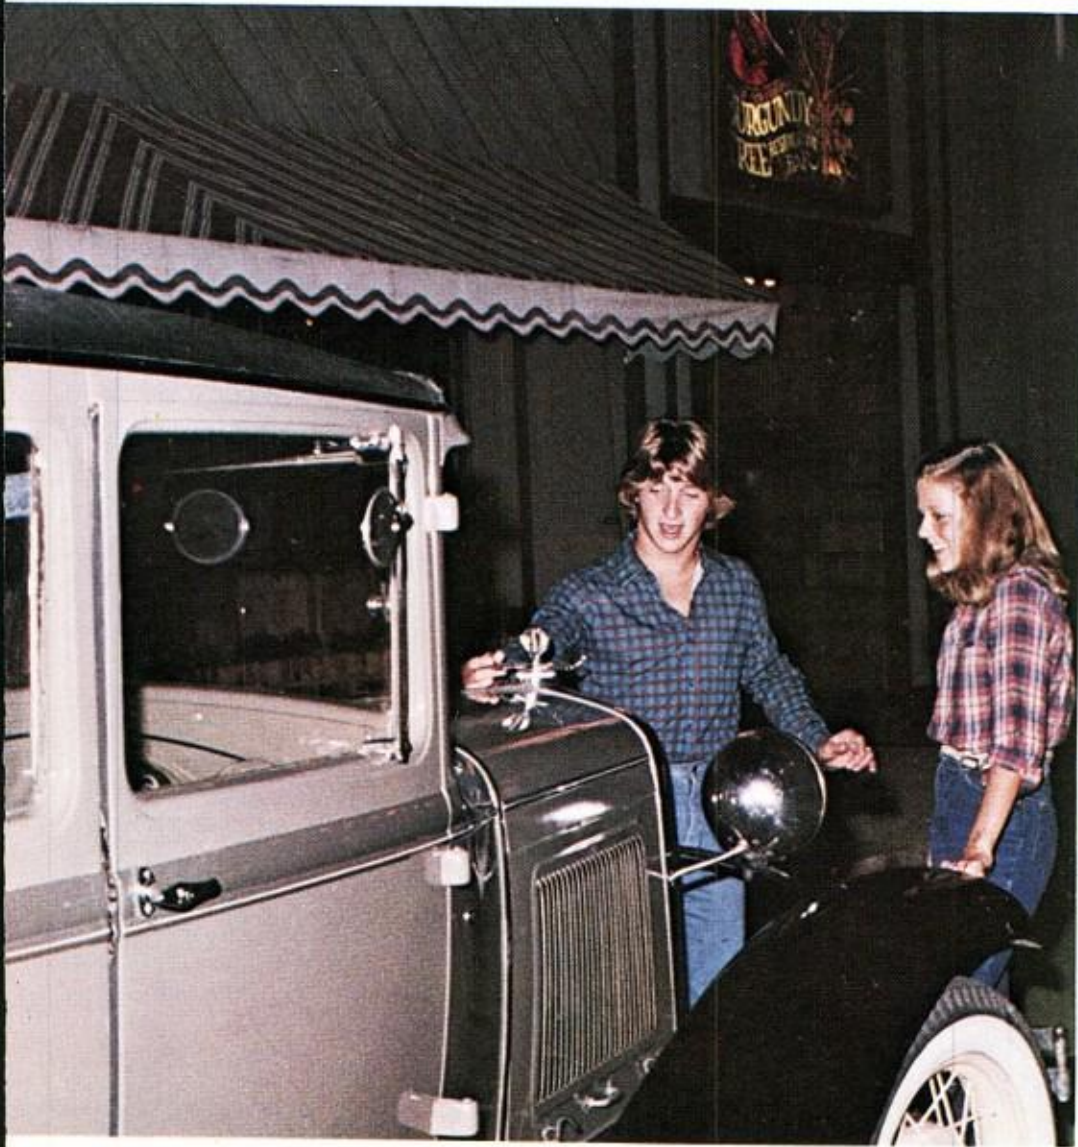

The world of cinema brought us another round with "Rocky II", the "Main Event", and the blood-curdling experience of "The Amityville Horror". All of these activities and more gave us the energetic desire to go on and on. . . .

A Friend and an Inspiration . . . Our Adviser

Each year, the publications staff dedicates the yearbook to a faculty member who we believe has made a great contribution to our school. This year's dedication is also a tribute to the lady who has worked beside us and has kept the yearbook alive, Miss Rennetta Davis. In the past, other staffs have wanted to do what we have done, but she has always declined or persuaded them otherwise. However, this year, we felt the credit was long overdue, and therefore, Miss Davis, we dedicate this yearbook to you.

She has accomplished something that few teachers have, relating to students on a one to one basis. When this happens, the friendship and respect established can last forever. Many who have worked with Miss Davis, understand this feeling very well. For the seven years she has taught at Boswell High School, she has become an everlasting friend to many who have passed through her Journalism, Publications, or English classes.

With this friendship, has also come her years of experience in publishing newspapers and yearbook. She has a "nose for news"; that is, she knows what constitutes news and what does not. This is what she teaches her Journalism classes. She never ceases to encourage her students, plugging them with ideas and flowing sentences, only to stand in the background, giving the individual student the glory of the by-line. To many, it seemed that she was predicting the end of the world daily, screaming "Deadline is today, people!" The road to Saginaw became well worn by Miss Davis as she carried the beginnings of every newspaper to the Sentinel to be printed. Somehow, With her help, the paper was always out on time.

It was much the same in Publications. There were endless dates to be met. Many Sunday afternoons and after-school efforts were necessary to meet these deadlines; and Miss Davis was always there. When "Give My Regards to Boswell" rolled around, she was the one who counted the votes for class favorites, and kept the results secret until the moment the decisions were announced the night of the show.

Even though Miss Davis works behind the scenes, her accomplishments can be seen every two weeks and the day the yearbook is returned—the results of her sweat and tears, and her days of tension.

Even though we, her students, will leave; her care, her devotion, and her expectations will continue to inspire us throughout our lives and careers. Because of the dedication of Miss Rennetta Davis, our goals will be achieved.

Homecoming 1979

Although the Pioneers were defeated by the Castleberry Lions, on Homecoming October 12 it didn't discourage their great enthusiasm or desire to achieve on the football field. Students prepared each day for the highlight of the week, Friday night. The student council-sponsored dress-up days and a Thursday night torchlight parade were signals that the time was near. Besides these preparations, the student council also went through great extremes to decorate the cafeteria into a "Mini-disco" for after the game entertainment. After the dance, students continued their evening by eating at various restaurants, proudly wearing decorated mums from Boswell High School. The annual ex-cheerleader breakfast was held in the library prior to the pep-rally, which was the first to be celebrated in the new gym. Again with their spirits, the senior class came out #1, winning the Homecoming spirit stick. All classes competed hard for this honor, and it was the student body's spirit and faith in the Pioneers that gave them the energetic desire to go on and on . . .

The morning of Homecoming 1979-80 gave some students a chance to exercise as they cleaned the excessive decorations off the trees. The entire campus was "TP'd" overnight as just another spiritful act of excited fans. Spirit was evident all over campus and burst

The queen nominees were: Amy Kimmel, Debbie Wagner, Cathy Corn, Sheri Means, and the 1979-80 Homecoming Queen was Janet Fulkerson. Escorting these young ladies were nominees for Pioneer of the Year: Jody Johnson, David Taylor, Mark Rauch, Kevin Otto, and the recipient of this honor was Number 19, Marty Ezell.

The half-time activities were highlighted with the car decorating contest. Taking first for their decorated hot air balloon were the Seniors. Although only one class could win, all classes participated with enthusiasm and hard work. Homecoming was not only a memory to be cherished by Seniors of 1979-80, but also celebrating in the festive activities were the Seniors of '69'; reminiscing from a decade ago, and celebrating their coming home. Their memories, along with ours, will continue to go on and on . . .

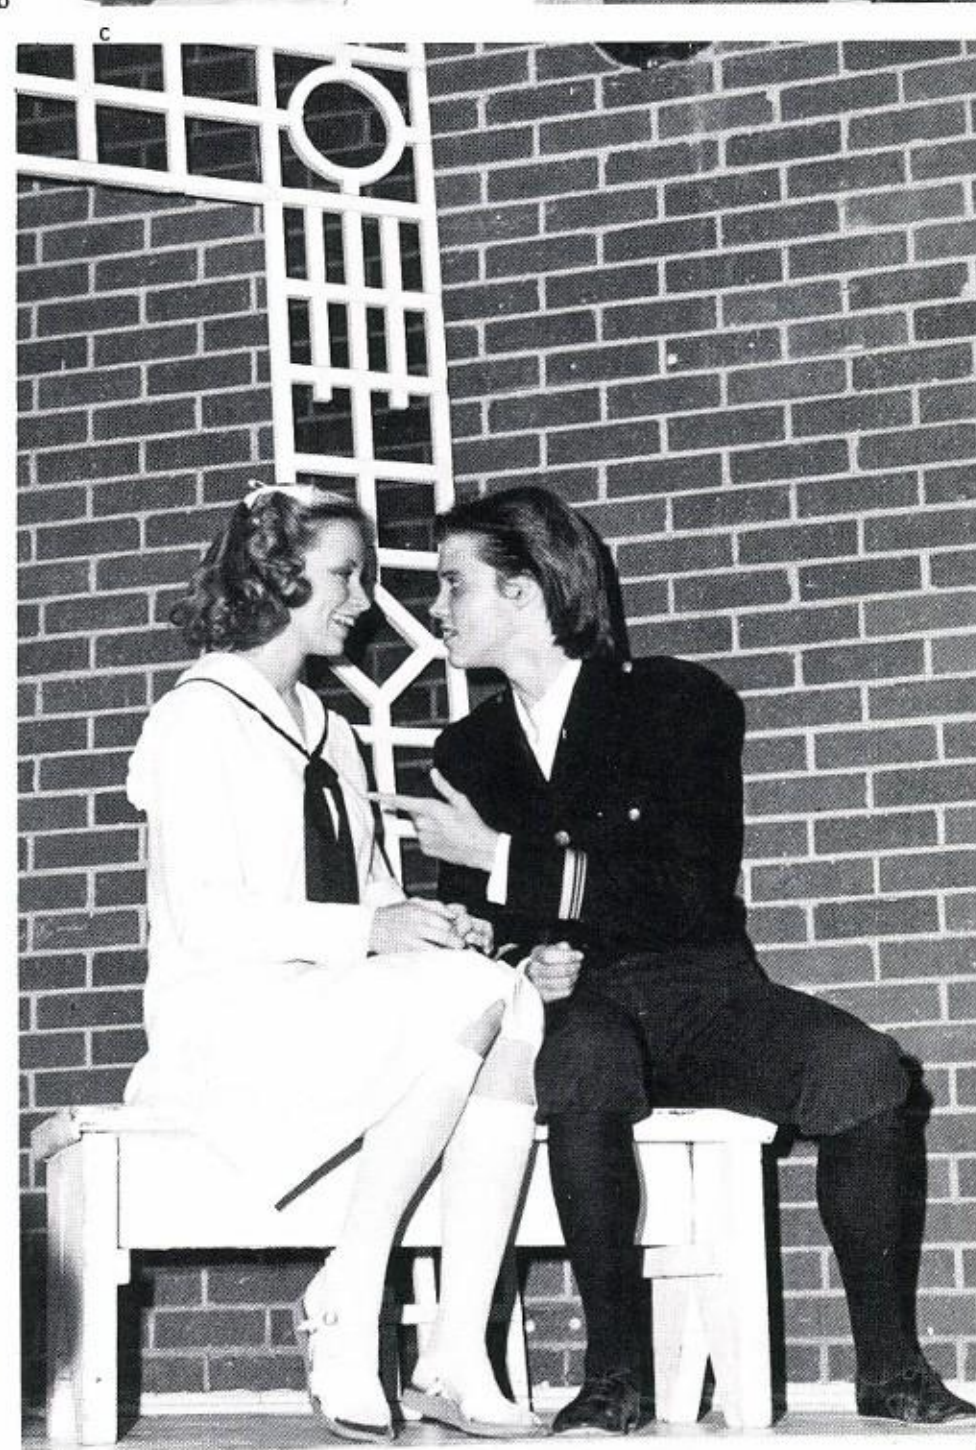

Thespians Salute 20th Year of "Sound of Music"

In order to celebrate the 20th anniversary of one of America's best loved musicals, Thespians performed an outstanding production of "The Sound of Music" for students and various members of the community in December.

"The Sound of Music" was first presented by Leland Hayward, Richard Halliday, Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre, New York City, on November 16, 1959. This touching and exciting play is about the Von Trapp family, as their father learns the meaning of love through his children and a wonderful lady named Maria, who finds that being married to the man she loves is what she rather have than being a nun.

Playing the lead as Maria and Captain Von Trapp were Lori Morlock and Ricky Pope. The two oldest children were Liesl and Friedrich, played by Kim Davis and Paul Hostetter. Kurt, Louisa, Brigitta, and Gretl were played by Tod Williams, Carrie Cleveland, Caren Sharpe, and Cindy Edgmon. The supporting cast members were Becky Brooks as the Reverend Mother, Gary Harlow as the uncle, Max, Gayla Pretzer as Elsa Schroeder, and Eddie Smith as Rolf Gruber.

This anniversary celebration production was dedicated to the memory of Boswell drama and art student, Donna Cole.

organizations

A year of service began for Student Council members even before school opened in August.

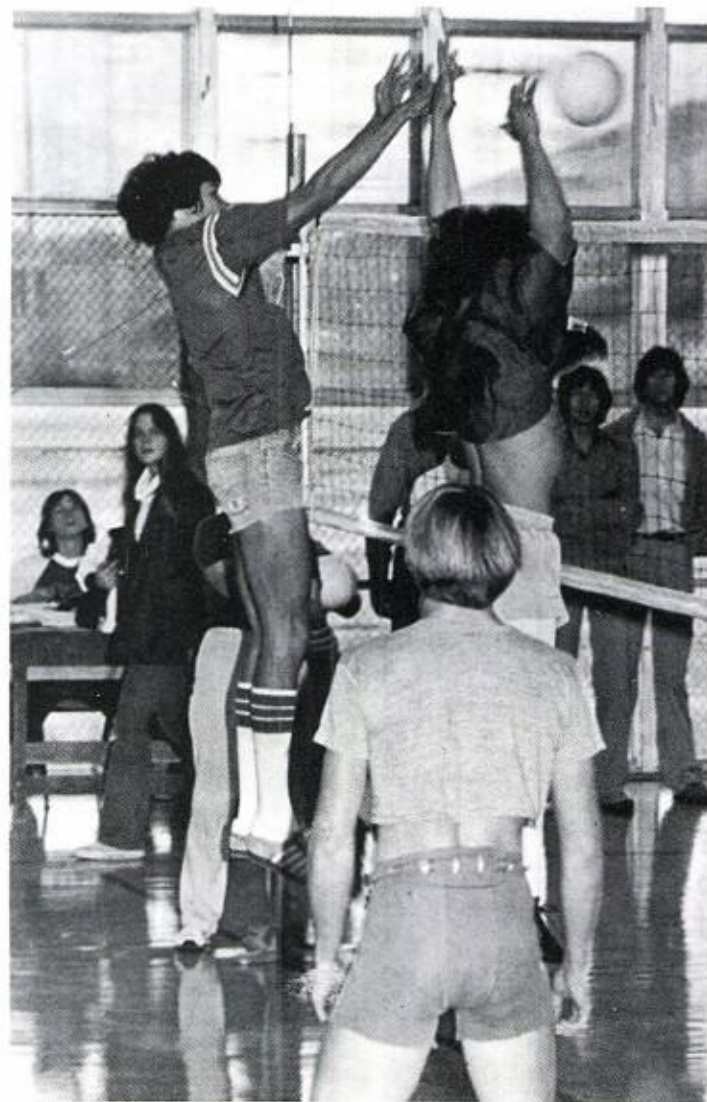

In July, fourteen members attended a San Angelo University Leadership workshop and had the distinction of being the largest (and loudest) group there. Volunteers helped newcomers at freshman orientation in August and aided teachers in setting up their classrooms for the opening day of school.

Homecoming week was the Student Council's initial extensive project of the year. Members were responsible for planning the dance, half-time presentations, a '69 Reunion, a week of crazy dress days, and numerous other activities that had Student Council members running ragged. Other projects throughout the year included a Halloween safety project for grade-school children, a canned food drive at Thanksgiving, faculty-student volleyball games, and a Christmas concert. Members also started what they hope will be new traditions: Decorating a real Christmas tree in the cafeteria, and sponsoring a visit from Santa.

Activities planned for the remainder of the year included the return of the Mr. Muscle Contest, St. Patrick's Day activities, attendance at the state convention and Senior Citizen's Day.

Preparing for marching contests, playing at the new gym dedication service, participating in the Rock-a-thon, and preparing for their trip to the Lake Charles, La., Band Festival were just a few of the many activities in which Boswell's Band of Gold participated this year.

The band began early preparing for the UIL marching contest, as they marched in the mornings before school and in the afternoons after school.

Led by Drum Majors David Lang, Angela Russell, and Robin Langley, and under the direction of Mr. Chuck Maxwell, the band marched their way to a II division rating at UIL competition November 6.

Band students participated in the annual Rock-a-thon which raised approximately $1500 to $2000 towards their trip to Lake Charles.

In December, students participated in the All-Region Band tryouts, with Boswell placing a record number of 10 students on the Honor Band. These 10 were: Barry Brents, Scott Copeland, Kolette Gish, Andy Hartsell, Paul Hostetter, David Lang, Jeff Owens, David Piekarski, Pat Vawter and Laura Wilson. Five of these students went on to compete in the Area Band try-outs later during the year.

In the spring, the band was to prepare for their trip to Lake Charles, La., to participate in the Contraband Days marching Parade and Concert Contest.

Show tunes, popular tunes and 16th century madrigals were a few styles of music sung by the Boswell Choir this year.

The choir raised money by selling merri-belles and baked goods. Ten of the choir girls performed as "nuns" in the December musical "The Sound of Music," which involved many difficult Latin songs.

December provided several performance dates for the choir. December 16 was spent at Ridgmar Mall singing for shoppers. On December 10 they sang for elementary students at Gilliland Elementary and a concert of Christmas music was performed at TCJC on December 18.

The Madrigal singers also performed for the Saginaw Lions Club as a dinner at Vance Godbey's in January.

In the years 1979-1980 members of the Future Farmers of America prepared for shows such as the Keller Fair, The Texas State Fair, The Boswell FFA Stock Show and the Ft. Worth Fat Stock show, along with the San Antonio Livestock Show, San Angelo Livestock Show and the Tarrant County Junior Livestock Show. In the same time all the shows were going on, district officers were elected.

FFA members had nine meetings this year and a Christmas Party. The young farmers attended two banquets: the area awards banquet and the district banquet during the year.

Learning to Do,
Daring to learn
Earning to live and Living to serve

was the motto by which the Ag students worked and learned. Amy Williams was the chapter sweetheart and competed at the district contest in January, prior the members' show at their farm.

FHA members tried to live up to their goal this year which was "Helping youth assume their roles in society, through home economics education in the areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation, and community involvement."

FHA did this by sponsoring a Parent-Member "Hoe Down" in October and FHA members lent a helping hand to Senior Citizens during Senior Citizen Care Week. Speakers gave hints during class visits to help Homemaking students look and feel more attractive.

Other activities planned for the year were a Christmas party at a Day Care Center, an after-school Frisbee Contest, a Mad Hatter Party, and in early spring, the second annual Computer Dance. Members also worked in the concession stands at the five home football games.

FHA's high point member was to attend the state convention in Houston and the second high point member was to go to Denton to TWU for the area convention during the year.

FHA placed major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking, and family life education combined with explorations of jobs and careers.

Responsibility, hard work, determination, and good times are just a few words that could describe this year's cheerleaders.

At summer camp, the Varsity cheerleaders were awarded four superior ribbons, a spirit stick, nominated for an Award of Excellence, along with the overall Spirit Award. Winning the Spirit Award was an experience the cheerleaders may never forget since they were chosen from 55 squads as the squad showing the most spirit.

The varsity cheerleaders sold ribbons to raise money for the cheerleading fund, and also planned activities such as a "snake dance" and the burning of the BHS.

Pom Pon Squad

A brand new organization was formed this year to promote more spirit during basketball season.

The Spirit group, known as "The Boswell Ten", were picked from twenty-five who tried out to perform pom pon routines during the home Varsity basketball games. The girls were judged on performance, appearance, congeniality, flexibility, and coordination. The group raised money by selling baked goods during the year.

The spirit group also hope to perform on the football field next year to help cheer the Pioneers to Victory.

"The Boswell Ten" Pioneer pom pon girls were: Karla Thome, Lauren Scheer, Terri Petelin, Jodi Barton, Dianne Murray, Mary Beth Cook, Robyn Julich, Mary Ellen Szlasa, Michelle Hoskins, and Celeste Bandy.

Pep Squad

The Pep Squad worked extremely hard this year as they learned new hand routines, and new cheers. They attended each varsity football game, backing the Pioneers all the way through the final game.

At summer camp the Pep Squad officers took high honors as they were awarded six superior ribbons, two superior trophies and one trophy for the most congenial group. Kellee Fowler won runner-up to the most congenial girl and Kelli Hall won a trophy for the most outstanding girl.

Pep Squad officers for the year were president, Kelli Hall; vice-president, Sharana Shield; secretary, Kellee Fowler; historian, Cara Mackey and treasurer, Cara Stewart.

Some people may wonder just what it is that the Trailblazers do around Boswell's campus. They do more for the school than just park cars during the home football games. This year's Trailblazers have helped load and unload equipment for the Pep Squad on all away games. They also led the Torchlight Parade, providing the torches for the event.

The Trailblazers Officers were, president, Scott Christianson; vice-president, Lee Pittman; and secretary/treasurer, Brent Morris. They were sponsored by Joe Bryan, Bob Blakey, and Deryl Fox.

The Junior Engineering Technical Society of Boswell High School had a number of exciting and challenging activities throughout the 1979-80 school year.

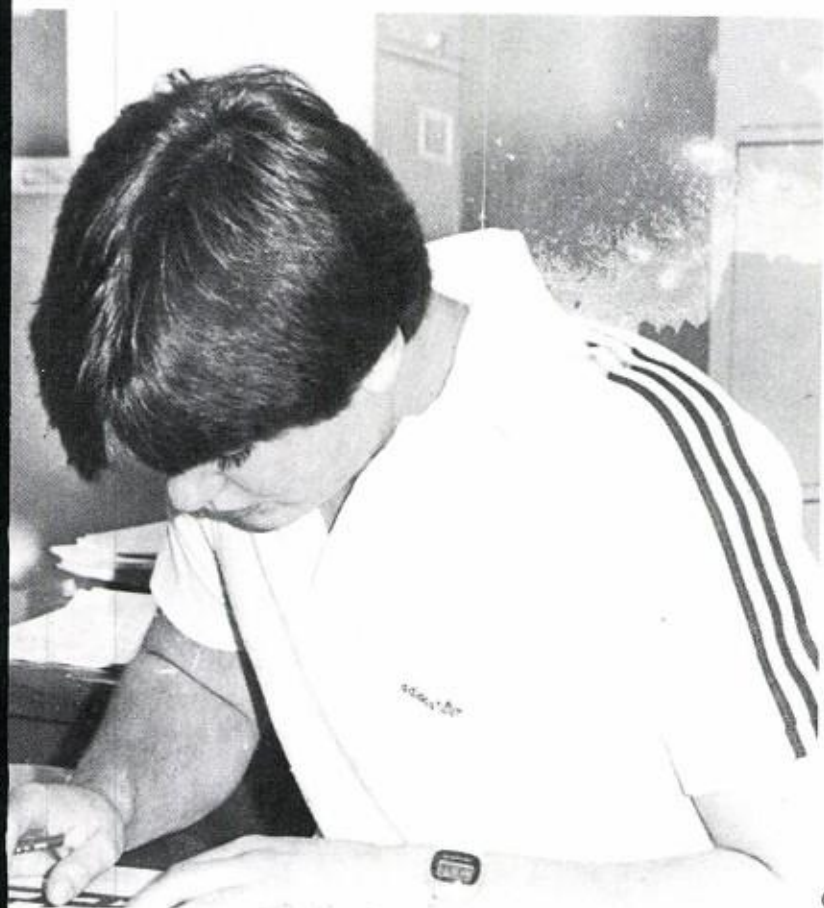

The JETS club's main event for the year, The Science Fair, came in the middle of winter, February 20-21. This was a highly anticipated moment, in which a great deal of time and thought was spent with teachers inspiring ideas and students preparing projects.

Inspiration of ideas was begun early in the school year with a trip to Texas A & M at College Station. A field trip to the Museum of Natural Sciences and History in Fort Worth helped to broaden club members' ideas. Additional field trips, activities, and science fairs took place during the year.

Club sponsors were Mr. Samuel Lee, Miss Alma Cox, Mrs. Melba Riggs and officers were Denise Charbonnet, president; Cara Mackey, vice-president; Celeste Bandy, secretary and Don Dagg, treasurer. They were kept busy arranging special activities and organizing the annual sausage and cheese sales. Money from the sales went to the Arthur Wilcock Memorial Scholarship Fund which enables a senior JETS club member the opportunity to further his education in a science-related field.

Boswell High School's Chapter of the Chi Alpha Mu (better known as the Math Club) was busy from the time the year began with fund raising projects, field trips and other exciting activities.

Math Club was made up of selected students with above-average grades, good citizenship, and an enrollment in a higher mathematics course. Math club's basic goal is to inspire student's interest in the field of mathematics.

Their first trip for the year was a weekend in Houston visiting NASA and listening to speakers. Next, a tour of the Braniff Airline Facilities at D.F.W. Airport was given by a Braniff pilot. Members also had a chance to see the magic of lasers at the Museum of Natural Science and History in Fort Worth.

Many other activities and projects were planned for the year by the club's sponsors, Miss Kathleen Ott and Mr. James Atchinson and the officers, Scott Worrell, president; Chris Stranc, vice-president; Lesa Blakey, secretary and Angela Russell, treasurer.

f In September Thespians enjoyed a picnic at Forest Park, where they participated in poetry reading and, of course, visiting the animals, and Thespians celebrated Halloween with a dress up party in October.

November brought in the planning, casting, and hard work necessary in preparing for the fall musical. In December the curtains opened and the proud cast presented "The Sound of Music" to celebrate its 20th anniversary.

The International Thespian Society Convention was held at Rosenberg in January. In February the troupe provided the entertainment and sets for the "Give My Regards to Boswell" presentation.

In March, Thespians invited several schools to participate in the One-Act Play Clinic in which each school was judged on their own play. The district One-Act Play contest held at TCJC was also in March. Early in the year Thespians sold two-year planners, note pads, and cookbooks to make money and in March they sold Easter bunnies.

Thespians ended the year in May at the Awards Dinner in which new members were initiated and scholarship money was granted in memory of Donna Cole.

Spanish Club

This year, the Spanish Club was kept busy with their activities and fund-raising projects to go to state convention in Austin.

They had a bake sale, sold peanut brittle, candy sticks, sour balls and candy dishes.

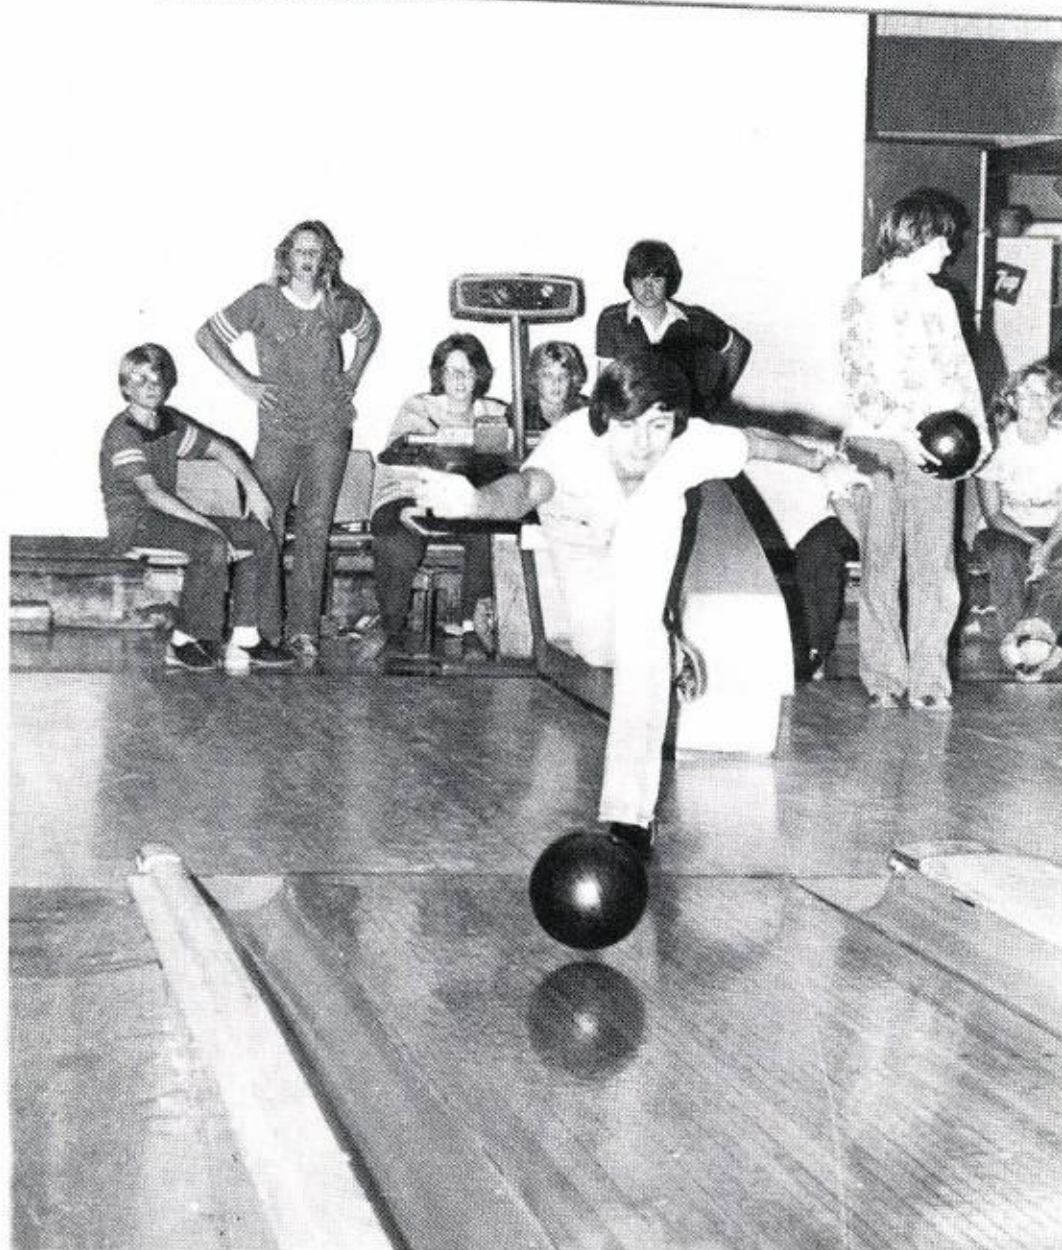

Some of the activities that members participated in were bowling, eating at a Mexican food restaurant and a joint Christmas party with the French Club.

Spanish Club members were to go to a state convention in Austin in March, along with an ice skating party at Tandy Center.

Officers of the Spanish Club this year were president—Diana Wartelle, vice-president—Cathy Corn, secretary—Dayna Henson, treasurer—Wanda Blount, and PASF chairman—Janet Casey.

French Club

The French club worked hard to make money for their activities during the year.

One of their fund-raising projects was the selling of doughnuts and hot chocolate in the winter.

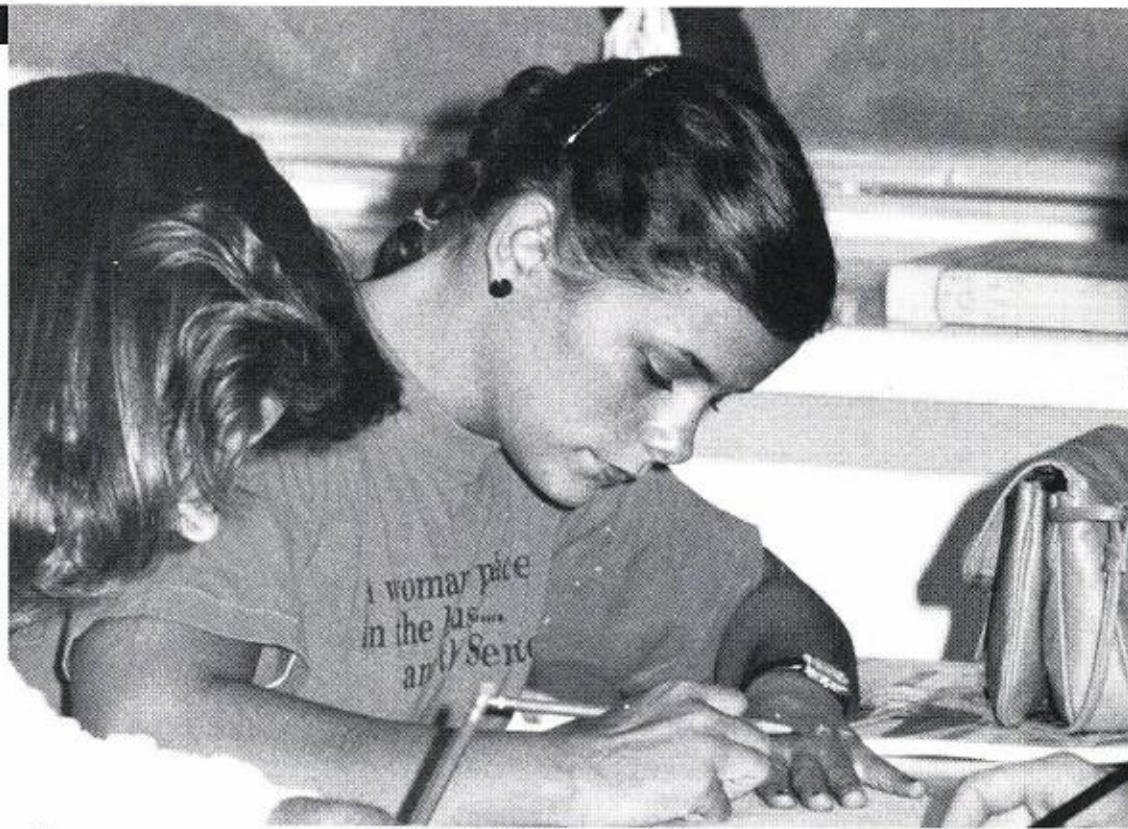

The main activity of the French Club was to be the Spring Banquet. They also had a Christmas party with the Spanish Club and were to go ice skating with them in January.

French teacher, Mrs. Loita Cottle, was to sponsor a week long trip to Europe during spring break.

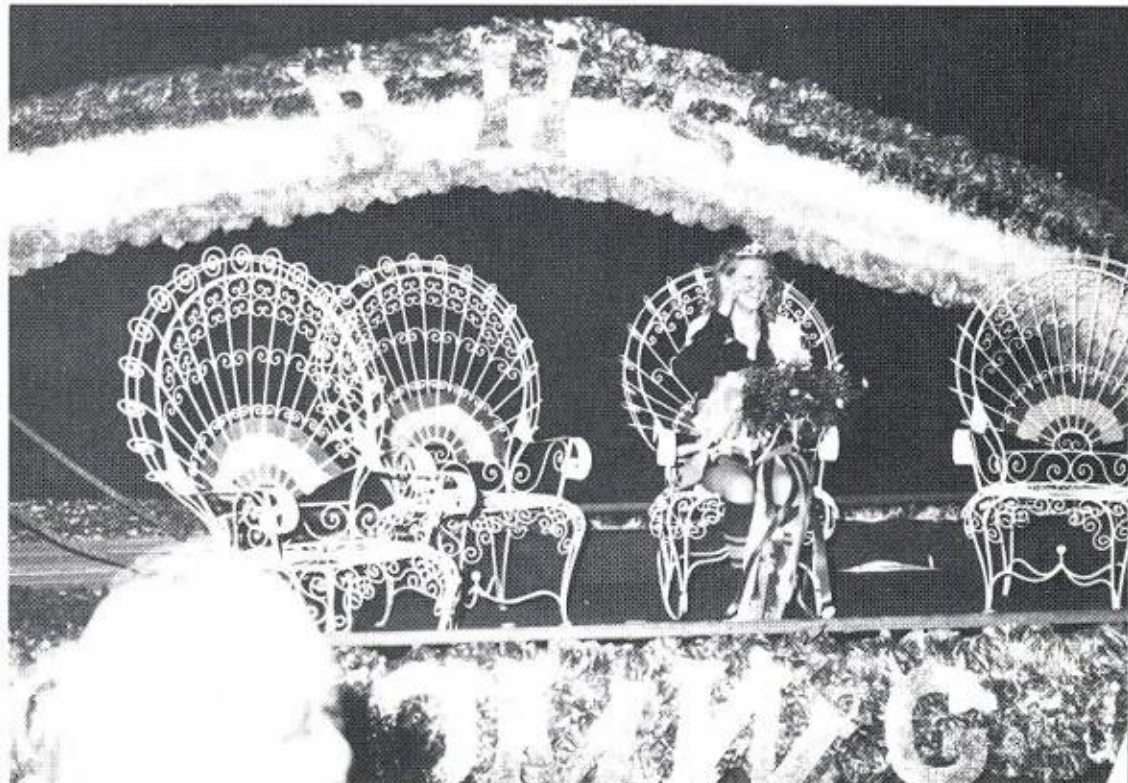

Officers for the French Club were: president—Lea Ann Hylton, first vice-president—Tracy LaQuey, second vice-president—Cara Mackey, Celeste Bandy was secretary and treasurer—Terri Petelin. The historians were Lee Garner and Nancy Groce.

Art Club

The 1979-1980 Art Club officers were: president, Jimmy Brumbalow; vice-president, Jimmy Vosberg; secretary-treasurer, Karla Thome; and historian, Rachel McLain. The members began the year building the homecoming float which was planned by Karla Thome and Jodie Barton. They were to go to Crystal's Pizza for their Christmas party, and visit museums for their entertainment.

Hero

During the 1979-1980 school year Hero had various activities scheduled for members. The first and most important activity was traveling to elementary and day care centers three days a week. As a community service, the group sponsored a children's movie, along with the city of Saginaw, two Saturdays a month at the Community Center. To excite children at Calvary Day Care Center, the members hosted a Halloween party filled with fun. Seriously thinking about neglected children, they sponsored a Toy Drive to aid a Christmas party at Hunter Day Care Center.

Traveling to Edna Gladney Home enthused the girls who lived there, and a visit to the Easter Seal Society fascinated the children there. Another interesting visit was to the Child Study Center to observe children with special needs.

Pioneer Press

PIONEER PRESS staffers prepared news for the student body and the community twice a month when they put together the school newspaper. The staff learned the fundamentals of news, feature, editorial and headline writing during the year, enabling many of them to enter UIL contest events in March.

The newspaper, an eight-page tabloid style, was mailed out to homes of each student enrolled in the Eagle Mountain—Saginaw Schools.

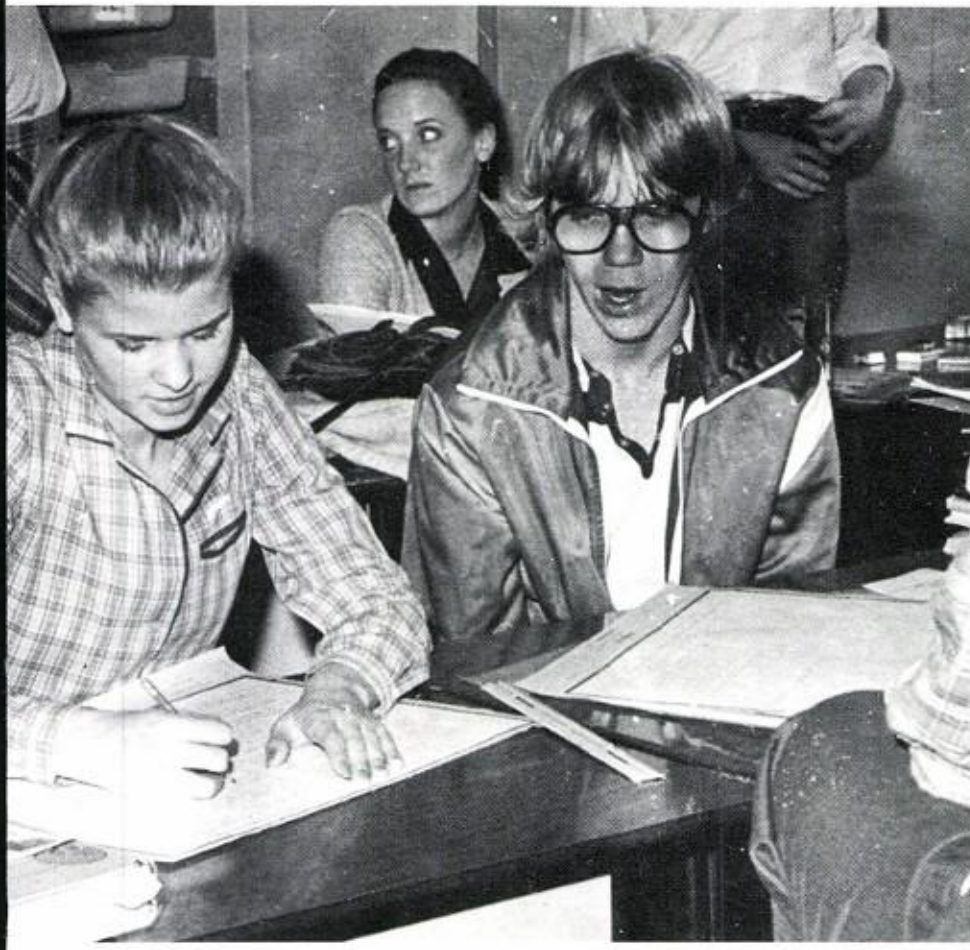

Guest speakers during the year for the classes were Donna Darovich, STAR-TELEGRAM feature writer and Gail Burris, public relations officer of the Fort Worth National Bank.

Pioneer Staff

It wasn't difficult for the PIONEER Staff to get inspired this year, for their determination was proven before school at the UTA Summer Workshop. Members of the PIONEER Staff won second overall at the contest for their theme and layout entries. They were the first staff to place at a summer workshop. The members who attended were, Jackie Petrilli, Carter Horner, Susan Reece, Sheryl Fowler, Amy Kimmel and adviser Renetta Davis.

Meeting deadlines, staying after school, and working on Sundays were just some of the duties the PIONEER Staff became accustomed to. After the last deadline, they only had to wait anxiously for the arrival of the yearbook, even more so than the rest of the student body.

The yearbook came out in May of 1980 with a supplement to be added in August.

OEA

OEA, a youth organization which is part of the VOE (Vocational Office Education) program, started off the year with a Halloween party combined with elections of the 1979-80 officers. Elaine Turner was elected co-op president; Melissa Ruelas, lab president; Lana Shewmake, secretary and treasurer; and Terri Winn historian. Mrs. Sharon Young and Mrs. Gwen Dean were the OEA sponsors.

In December the group held a progressive dinner with salad, main course, dessert and exchange of gifts taking place at a few of the volunteering OEA students' houses.

In the month of February, OEA students were to attend a West Area OEA conference and contest including areas of office work such as job application involving typing, filing, and bulletin board contests. Then in March members attended the state convention in Dallas. If competing students did well in contests, they were to travel on to Minneapolis, Minnesota, to the national convention in April.

Along with the many other things activities in which OEA members have been involved included National OEA week in February, the Secret Pal program, in which students chose a teacher for their pal.

To top off the year, the group planned a get-together picnic.

During the year the office duplication students duplicated for Boswell teachers and did the P.T.A.'s printing and other outside jobs.

The students also learn basic typing and filing skills, check writing, layout and design, family financial management, and record keeping.

The club, Vocational Office Careers Clubs of Texas, met for meetings monthly at various places. Besides social activities, the members participated in various service activities. In the spring, members who earned enough points were to participate in the state VOCCT contests. In the past, teams have made good showing and expected to again this year in San Angelo.

Officers for the year were: president—John Munoz; vice-president—Ronda Kennedy; secretary—Kerrie Winn; treasurer—Gloria Martinez; sargent of arms—Lois Nichols; reporter—D'Lana Cannon; and club advisor—Mrs. Billie Thompson.

The Whiz Quiz kids were a relatively quiet group on campus this past year . . . quiet that is, unless you happened to be in the library during practice sessions.

This academic club was made up of a small number of dedicated students whose interests had no limits. These students were required to maintain at least a 'B' average, good citizenship, and could miss no more than two practices. The eventual goal was to defeat all the area schools in the Fort-Worth Dallas region in competition. Tournaments, played in a jeopardy fashion, were held on Tuesday nights at the Dallas Christian College. Contestants got to hear themselves compete Saturday nights on the radio station WFAA when that week's contest tape was aired. Sponsors bombarded students twice a week with data ranging from the arts to the atom. The end result was ten very competent, well-rounded contestants.

The National Honor Society inducted new members for the 1979-1980 school year in early May with a formal, candlelight ceremony.

Students were selected on the basis of scholarship and teacher recommendations, while maintaining a 3.0 grade point average. Officers were Bob Allen, president; Steve Harlow, vice-president; David Taylor, secretary; Mark Kloster, treasurer; and Jackie Petrilli, reporter. These people also made up the executive committee.

The group planned to visit American Airlines Flight Academy and D/FW airport in February for a tour and an orientation. The society also held an end of the year outing at Barbrook Recreation Center in Haltom City. This outing was to be an all day picnic comprised of swimming, eating, playing games and various other recreational activities.

The active students of Boswell's DECA club had a busy year taking part in school functions and raising money for special causes such as Muscular Dystrophy and participating in a Bowlathon during the winter months. DECA club members and other participants bowled up a total of $651 to go to Jerry's kids.

Mr. Olen Mahaffey, DECA sponsor and teacher, contributed many hours to the club activities through the year. Along with the Bowlathon, DECA sold coupons that were good for a 11x14 family portrait.

For a fund-raising project the club sponsored a faculty-student basketball game after regular basketball season ended.

Cosmetology

Cosmetology students traveled everyday to Castleberry High School for their three hour class in basic hairstyling.

Boswell's eight students enrolled in the course this year and involved themselves completely in every available activity, including the club Vica, which stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America.

The class was made up of all juniors, which included: Mary Wilson, Ginger Jones, Janice Caraway, Trudie Ellis, Terri Hall, Julie Axline, Cindy Hodges, and Yvonna Brown.

This year was filled with activities for ICT, ranging from meetings and contests to holiday dinners.

Their first meeting was the District Fall Leadership Meeting at Grapevine High School late in October. The State meeting was to be held in the middle of April at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth. The VICA Chapter was to attend a spring meeting at Sam Houston High School in Arlington, March 14-15.

ICT congregated at the Chelsea Street Pub for a Thanksgiving dinner and later they met at the Hayloft to enjoy a Christmas dinner in a western atmosphere.

The ICT students were to meet with other schools to hold contests in different job skills. They also had projects to enter.

ICT was to hold their employee, employer banquet late in April or early May.

The club sponsor for the 1979-80 school year was Mr. Joe Penn.

Boswell's Future Teachers had a busy year with activities ranging from its traditional bake sales to raising money for Muscular Dystrophy. To show their school spirit, they sold spirit carnations at the first home game and sponsored the balloon contest for Homecoming.

At the district FTA convention held at Texas Wesleyan College in December, president Jan DeVries was elected district recording secretary. She was to run for a state office at the state convention held in Houston February 1-2.

Other officers were vice-president, Bobbie Ross; secretary, Teresa Wallace; treasurer, Sharana Shield; historian, Beverly Buchanon; and parliamentarian, Leesa Cherry.

Also in FTA tradition, student teaching day was held in March, and fuzzy animals were sold for a money-making project.

For holiday festivities, the club went to Four Seasons Rest Home to sing Christmas carols, and afterwards they went to Parton's Pizza for a party.

Sponsors for the year were Mrs. Sylvia Underwood, Mr. John Cleveland, and Mrs. June Newman.

Season Long For Pioneers

Despite the fact that Boswell's 4-6 record failed to earn the team the 3A-5 district championship, the Pioneers provided everyone with excitement from week to week.

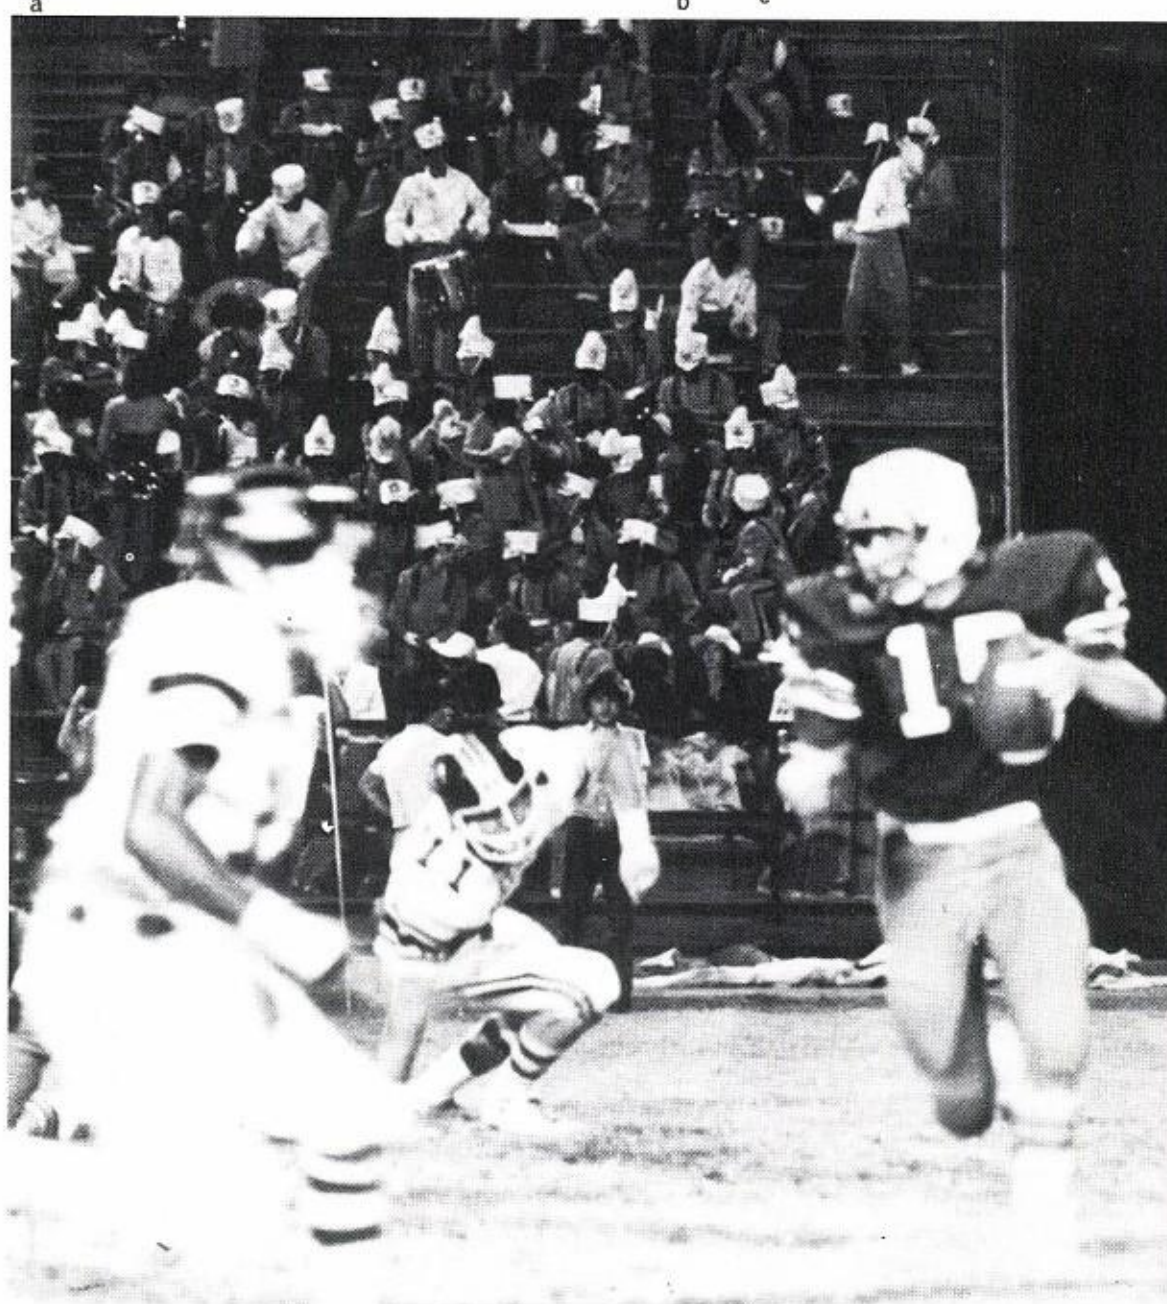

The squad started off this season much like last, dropping their first three games, all non-district. However, North Side and Keller, who were expected to give Boswell a run for the crown, also dropped their opening three decisions.

Due to this, the Pioneers' spirits were still high and all had an optimistic outlook on the next week as the Pioneers opened district by spoiling Brewer's Homecoming 12-7. But the Carter-Riverside Eagles had the same thing on their minds as they shocked Boswell 16-7, giving the Pioneers their first Homecoming loss in 12 years.

Boswell suffered another defeat, a 24-0 blanking at the hands of district champions North Side, before rebounding for a 14-0 whitewashing of winless Castleberry.

The Pioneers traveled to Keller with slim hopes of a district championship still alive.

But those hopes, along with those for a winning season, were dashed as the Indians held off a second half Pioneer rally to hand Boswell their third district setback, 24-14.

The defeat at Keller proved to be the last one of the season for Boswell as they came back to win their last two games. The team edged Diamond Hill-Jarvis 10-6 before the last game of the year, which was probably the biggest victory for the Pioneers. The Hornets of Azle came into Pioneer Stadium 8-1 and heavily favored. The Pioneers refused to let the across-the-lake rival beat them, and pulled out a 12-8 victory after a game plagued with turnovers.

The Pioneers' offense was spearheaded by the backfield combination of junior quarterback Brad Shaw, senior fullback Jerry Davis, junior tailback Alvis Yardley, and sophomore tailback Todd Staton. The line, anchored by senior tackle Kevin Otto and senior guards Mark Rauch and Billy Rose, also did a fine job. Senior receiver Marshall Woolsey led the team in receptions, many of which were touchdowns.

The defense once again played a large part. Tackles Otto and Rose led the defensive line and senior linebackers Daniel Gutierrez, Keith Jackson and Jody Johnson did a fine job throughout the year. The defensive backfield was led by senior safeties Marty Ezell and Woolsey and senior cornerback Danny Pemberton.

Two Pioneers were placed on the 3A-5 coaches' All-District football team. Senior receiver and safety Marshall Woolsey made the first teams on both offense and defense at his position. Senior Kevin Otto received honors for his play at the offensive tackle position.

Many Pioneers also received honorable mention for their outstanding performances through out the 1979 campaign. Senior guard Billy Rose and senior tackle Mark Rauch were recognized for their offensive playing. Senior tackles Greg Garrett and Otto, junior end Mike Beckner, senior safety Marty Ezell and senior linebackers Keith Jackson and Jody Johnson all drew praise from the district's coaches and received honorable mention guards on defense.

Junior Varsity Breaks Even With 4-4-1 Season Tally

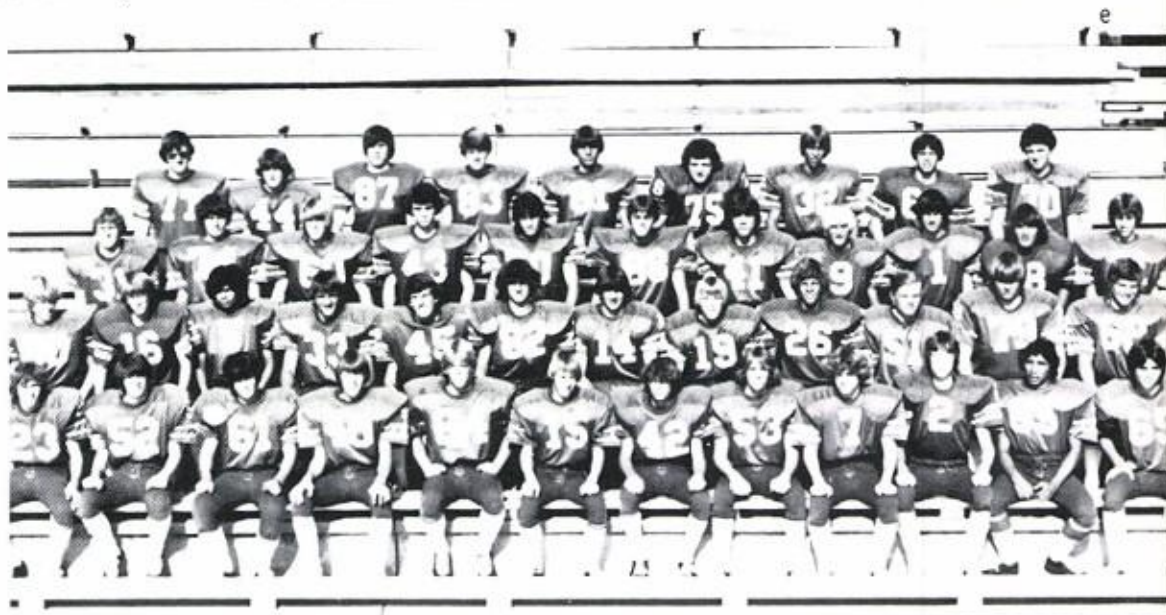

The junior varsity football team broke even this year with a 4-4-1 record. Their last game against Azle, a 0-0 tie, demonstrated the closeness of their games all year.

The j.v., although they did not win district, played many close contests and were a hard-working bunch. Coach Mike Amick said, "The thing that impressed me was their willingness to work."

The squad put together a stingy defense which was led by defensive linemen Bart DeLackner and Billy Don Applewhite, linebackers Grady Ezell and Rusty Freeman and defensive back John Garrett. Also helping to spark the defense was Gene Reed.

Offensively, the junior varsity team was led by the rushing of Freeman, who followed the blocking of guards Fritz Sayers, John Willkie, Ezell and tackle Robert Groce. Also outstanding were quarterbacks Craig Williams and Ted Stevenson, who both led the offense.

Freshmen Gridders Win District With 8-1-1 Record

This year's freshmen football team put together a very fine 8-1-1 record.

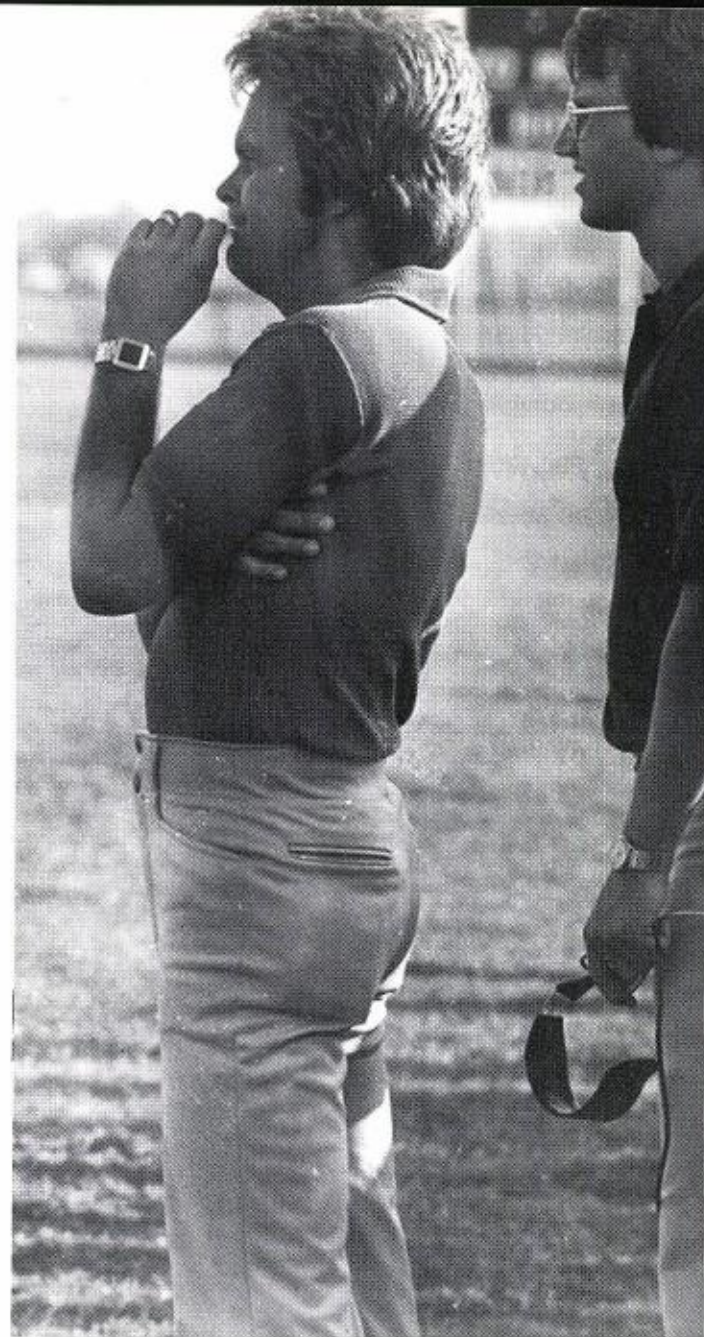

After a tie and a loss in their first two games, the freshmen put it all together, winning their last eight games and capturing the district title in the process.

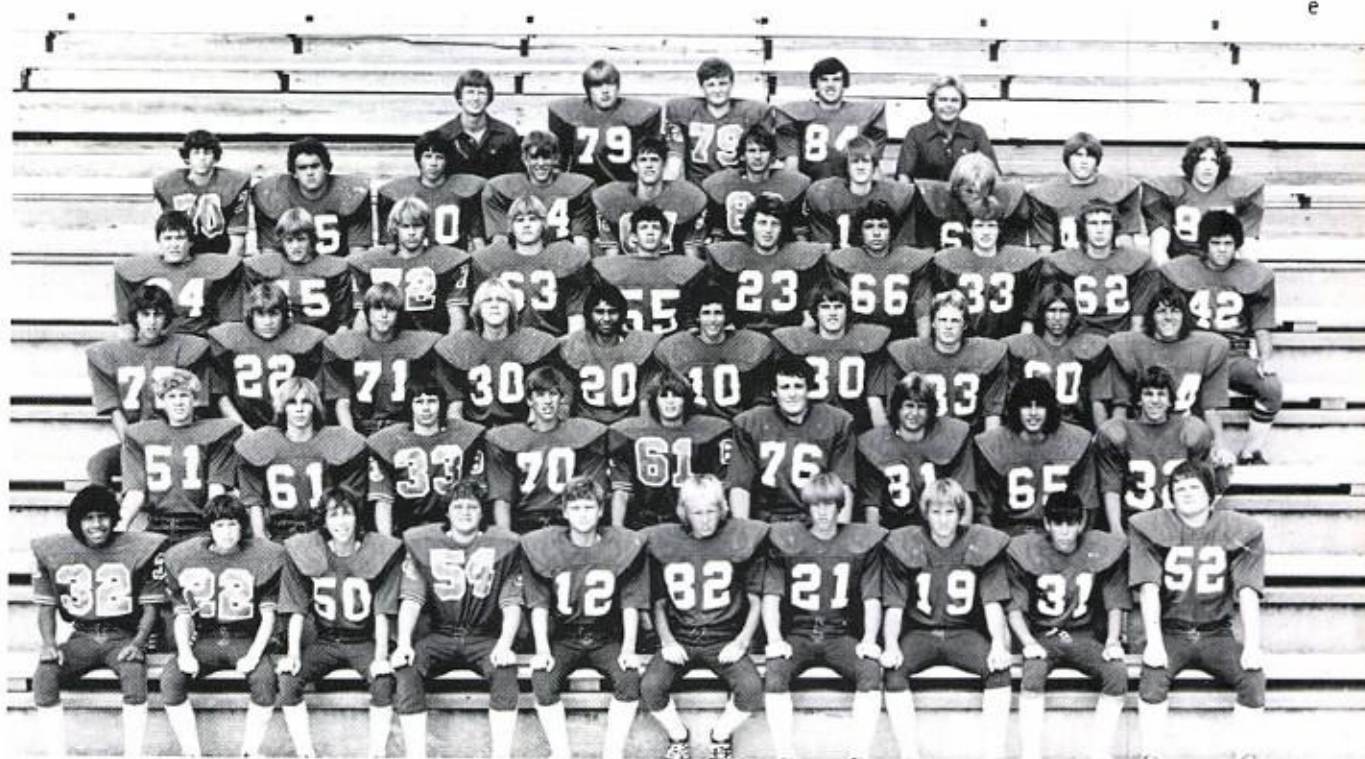

The freshmen combined to produce a very potent offense and defense. In district play the team scored 152 points, while only giving up 31 points and recording four shut outs.

Offensively, quarterback Alan Daniel, tailback Tommy Castillo and receiver Phil Bandy were outstanding, along with the whole offensive line. The line consisted of Eddie White, center; Tommy Guedry and Arthur Jenkins, tackles; Jim Ragle and Chuck Knowles, guards.

Defensively, there were many individual efforts but Coach Terry Reynolds said this was typical of his defense, "We had good team effort through the year," according to Reynolds. Leading the defensive charge was Greg Bicknell, linebackers Scott Christian and Guedry and linemen Tracy Adams and Jenkins.

The team's most exciting game was with Diamond Hill. After trailing 7-6, the freshmen rallied for an 18-13 win and the district crown.

Rhodes, Davis Run To State Meet

Cross country runners Everett Rhodes and Melanie Davis were already envisioning the state meet at Georgetown when they began the year with their fellow competitors in September.

The two runners, who qualified for the state competition held in December, were consistent top 10 finishers all year. Rhodes led the boys' team to a second place at district at Keller on November 20, enabling them to compete at the regional meet in Arlington, where the team earned a seventh place. The senior runner placed ninth to gain a state berth.

Other team runners were Tom Petrushka, David Granada, Chris Huffman, Brian Huffman, Roger Corbin, Jim Seals, and James Hoover.

The girls competed individually, with their best showing coming at Keller, as they placed highest out of 60 competitors. Besides Davis, the second year state qualifier, runners were Vickie Steel, Dana McRae and Tammy Springer.

Running on the junior varsity level for the boys were Rod Grope and Chris Wells.

The teams competed in meets at Country Day, Jesuit and St. Marks in Dallas, Mesquite and Grapevine before the district meet.

Netters Host First Tourney

Hosting the first Boswell Invitational Volleyball Tournament highlighted the netters' year with the Pioneerettes winning the consolation bracket of their tourney.

With Coach Debbie Biondi, three returning starters, and lots of new players, all combined their talents and efforts to compete in the name of Boswell.

Varsity player Patty Horton "always kept our spirit up," exclaimed sophomore Patti Woods. Junior-Varsity captain sophomore Dawnell Dalloff led sophomores Lois Nichols, Patti Woods, Diana Garza and Freshmen Liz Gillen, Cristal Webb and Vicki Garza on the junior squad.

Coach Biondi said, "We are looking to next year. Our team was in re-building stage this year, but next year's will be a different story."

The varsity team was headed by Juniors Janet Hilton, Patty Horton and Sandy Johns. The rest of the team consisted of sophomores Tyla Whipp, T.J. Hayden, Jeannie Shore and Tammy Day.

Coach Biondi summed it up, "Most of the girls are returning and we're hoping for a strong team next year."

Cagers Record Best Season in Years

Even though the 1979-80 Pioneer five finished fourth in district, they recorded their first winning season in many years.

The team's overall record for the year was 16-14, with the cagers capturing six district wins while losing eight.

The Pioneers considered their season a success, coupled with a lot of excitement, after beating North Side for the first time in the four years since the Steers entered district AAA-5.

The game was one of the many exciting ones of the year. In the North Side game, the lead changed hands several times, with Boswell finally ending up with a 46-45 victory.

The Pioneers kept their home fans on the edge of their seats in close contests with Lewisville and Gainesville prior to district play, then gave them more excitement in home tilts with Brewer, Azle, and Castleberry.

The team played many close contests, with eleven games ending with two-point margins. The Pioneers were victorious in five of the two-pointers and lost six.

During district the cagers competed from week to week with teams who helped them exhibit their growing experience and poise under pressure.

The team competed in three tournaments in the early part of the season, winning two second place trophies, including second at their own tournament and a third. Randy Lauderdale was named All-Tournament at Grapevine and Azle, while Danny Pemberton and Mike Crisco earned All-Tournament honors at the Boswell Invitational in December.

At the end of the season, 6'3" center Pemberton was named second team all-district while team members Lauderdale, Reed Bogue, and Crisco received honorable mention, and 6'2" forward Kraig Thome was chosen as AAA-5 "Sophomore of The Year".

Although there were many outstanding players, the main ingredient for the successful season was "team unity and team concept," according to Coach Don Boen. The team held together through some tough games showing outstanding character and leadership. After last year's team had set the foundation for winning, this year's was able to take on step further, establishing a winning foundation.

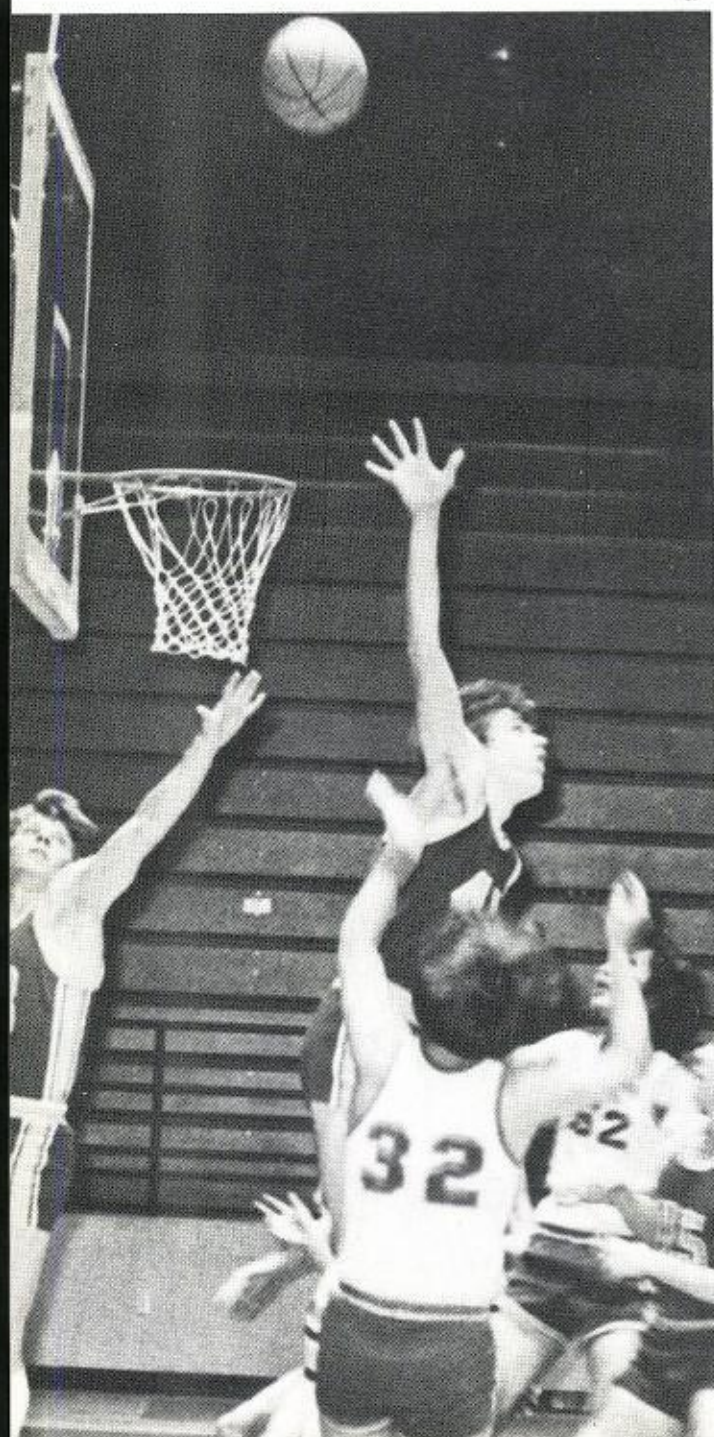

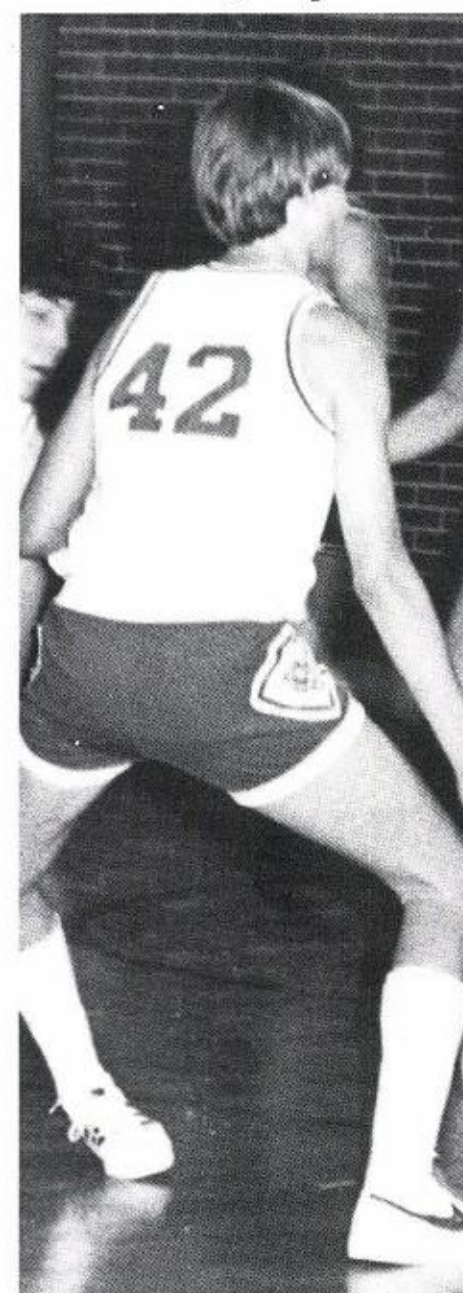

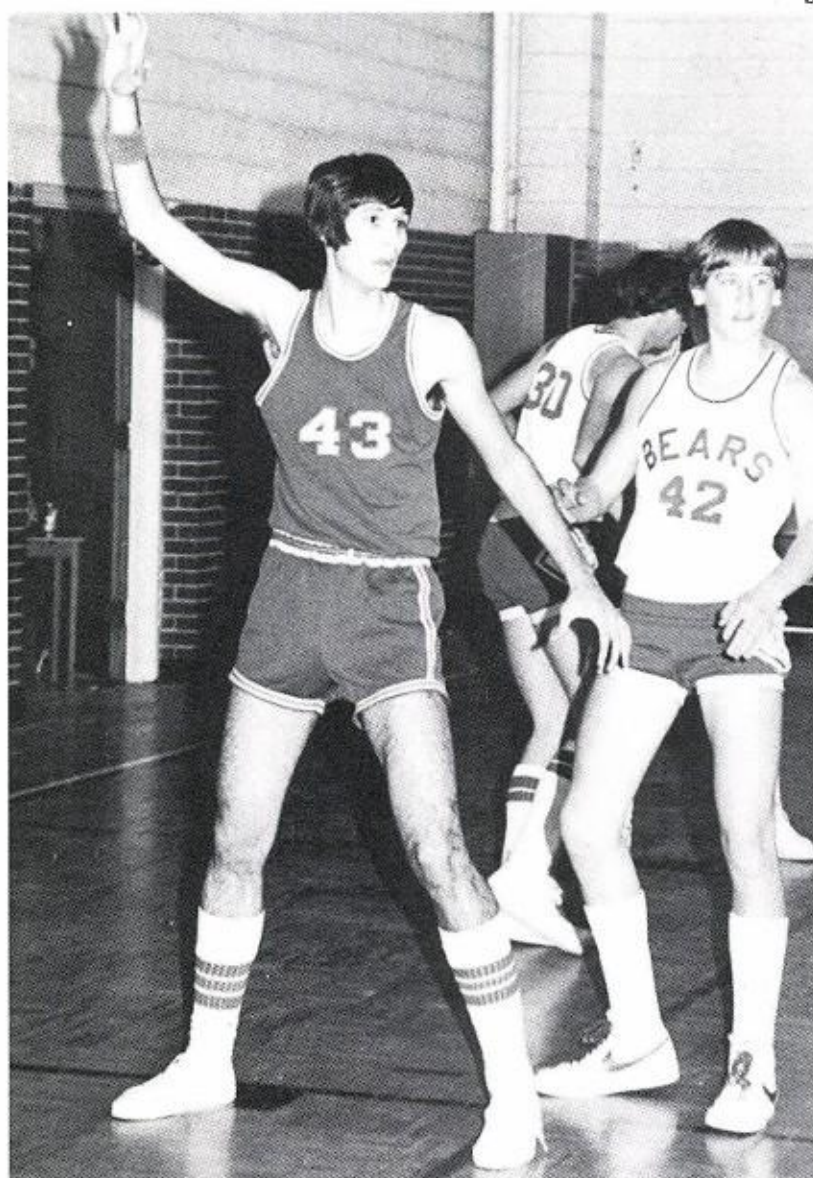

Boen again stressed that the team came together as a unit which was shown by the five starters, with the high pointer for the year averaging 12.7 points per game with the lowest average being around 10 points.

Junior Varsity

This year's junior varsity basketball team, coached by Tim Daughtrey, compiled a 5-8 district record, and they were 11-12 overall.

The J.V. lost many heartbreakers, with six out of eight games they lost in district being by four points or less. Paul Murry and Rusty Freeman turned in many fine performances, and the J.V. was a "very successful team," according to Coach Daughtrey. Marc Charbonnet, Steve Ward, and freshman Tracy Adams also contributed to the team.

Daughtrey said, "This year was a good learning experience for the team and me as a coach. Overall we had a lot of ability and we were a very unselfish and hard working team, and this will help make them winners on the varsity level."

Freshmen Post 23-3 Record

The freshmen cagers posted a season of outstanding victories with a record of 23 wins and 3 losses, tying for district with Carter-Riverside.

The team set the best record this year out of all the Boswell basketball teams, and the best record ever at Boswell.

The team also won two tournaments, including Boswell's own and the Castleberry Tournament. They came in second in the Keller Tournament, losing out to Carter, who captured first place.

Tracy Adams, was placed on the junior varsity, after showing excellent skills on the court.

Some of the other outstanding members who contributed each week were Alan Daniels, Tommy Castillo, Phillip Bandy, Arthur Jenkins, Greg Bicknell, James Krause, Kevin Smotherman, David Duzan, and Paul Hostetter.

Girls' Team Posts 8-6 District Tally

The excitement of playing in Boswell's new gymnasium and their trek down to Conroe were just a few highlights of the Boswell Pioneerettes' basketball season.

Opening their regular season on November 19, the varsity girls traveled to Mansfield and Aledo where they picked up their first two wins of the season.

The dedication of the new gym was a new experience for the girls as they faced Irving in front of a full house only to fall short of a victory.

The team traveled next to Conroe, where they participated in the Conroe High School Tournament, in which they suffered defeats by La Porte and El Campo. Junior Mary Kay Winchell was named to the All Tournament team there.

The team worked to get back on their feet as they experienced defeats from Cleburne and from Arlington Lamar and Bishop Lynch in the Arlington Classic.

The girls got it together to defeat the Lake Worth Frogs 68-20.

This year the girls co-hosted the Boswell Tournament in which they received second place after defeating Neumann Smith and Bonham, but fell to Lewisville in the final round. Senior Dana McElreath and Denise Charbonnet were named to the All-Tournament team.

On December 17, the girls began district play by defeating Diamond Hill. But they next fell to the Azle Hornets by a 31-point deficit. The team ended the first half of district with a disappointing 3-4 record.

In the second half, the team fought back to defeat all but the Azle Hornets and the Keller Indians, as they closed out the season with their record standing at 8-6.

Leading scorers for the Pioneerettes were Mary Kay Winchell with 294, and Dana McElreath with 249. Leading in rebounds was McElreath with a total of 295, followed by Winchell with 249.

This year's team will lose Dana McElreath, Susie Reece, Debbie Wagoner, Diana Wartell and manager Donna Reynold as graduating seniors.

Returning to next year's squad with a lot of court experience will be Winchell, Theresa Bicknell, Charbonnet, Dayna Henson, Tammy Stafford, Karen Lomerson and Le Ann Trapp. Moving up from the J.V. for the last few games were Laurie Burgess and Cindy Reasoner, who helped with varsity chores and gained experience for next year.

Junior Varsity

The girls' JV set a record of the longest unbeaten homestand and in district play ever, and ended the season with an 8-9 overall record.

Angela Fuchs and Lana Tilley were the season's leading scorer and rebounder, respectively. Wanda Blount, Jennifer St. Germaine, Laurie Burgess, and Cindy Reasoner showed a great deal of leadership and enthusiasm for the team.

Sophomore Reasoner and Burgess were both moved up to the varsity squad later in the year.

The whole team showed great improvement, and as Junior Jennifer St. Germaine put it, "We are ready for the '80-81' season."

Freshmen

Getting used to Boswell is one of the first things a freshman must do, however, the freshman girls soon broke through the barrier and brought home a 7-9 season record.

Since only four other district schools had freshmen girls' basketball teams, games were scarce but the learning experience was invaluable, according to Coach Debbie Biondi.

The freshmen girls competed against Brewer, Azle, Keller, and Castleberry twice, and also competed against some local private schools. These included Fort Worth Country Day, Cleburne and Nolan High Schools. The young Pioneerettes gained victories against these three teams.

Their record was 7 wins—9 losses. With so few games the emphasis was placed more on technique than on spirit.

Melanie Glover's hard work paid off as she was named the leading scorer and Stacey Hjort as the leading rebounder for the team.

Coach Biondi summed the year up saying, "Overall it was a successful year, even though the scores don't show it. The girls improved greatly."

Gymnasts Host

After a long summer of vigorous workouts, Boswell gymnasts faced a difficult but promising season with both the varsity and junior varsity teams setting their sights on top competition in the region and eventually the state meet.

The past year, changes within the women's team were made creating two varsity teams to compete instead of the conventional one. They competed against each other in most meets; however in the major meets the two combined to form one. This not only gave more members a chance to compete, but also strengthened the overall team.

The year's men's team fielded 25 members, with 15 being newcomers. The girl's division had a larger number of experienced members, and with the year's newcomers, the team's overall strength was heightened.

Strong points for the men's team were the events of floor exercise, vaulting, and rings. As for the women's team, their strong points were vaulting and also floor exercise.

Competing in top form throughout the year for the teams were seniors Carol Lay, junior Linda Williams, and sophomore Angela Phipps and Tracy LaQuey. Men's top competitors were seniors Kevin Robinson, Aaron Yochum, Jeff Cantwell and Gerardo Barrera.

Coaches Carey Cribbs and Darrell Daniel felt confident toward the season and felt the team had set good attainable goals.

For the first time, Boswell hosted the Regional meet, which was held April 4-5. During the winter months Boswell was being considered to be the host of the State meet, and this decision was to be made by spring.

Netters Begin Early Season

This year's Boswell tennis team started the year early with Fall Tennis competition at TCU's Mary Pottishman Lard Tennis Center.

Though the tourney was cancelled after the first four matches due to bad weather, Boswell ended up with a 2-1-1 record.

The Boswell netters were joined this year by snior Lauren Sheer, an Oklahoma state-ranked player. Lauren played number two girls' singles and she and her doubles partner, Kris Wood, had a good chance of advancement in district.

Warm weather early in the year gave the netters a chance to work out and have matches with such teams as Burleson, Keller, Watherford, and Azle before they began district play in April.

District was to be held at Tarrant County Junior College this year. The girls' competition would be held April 1-3, and boys' April 7-9.

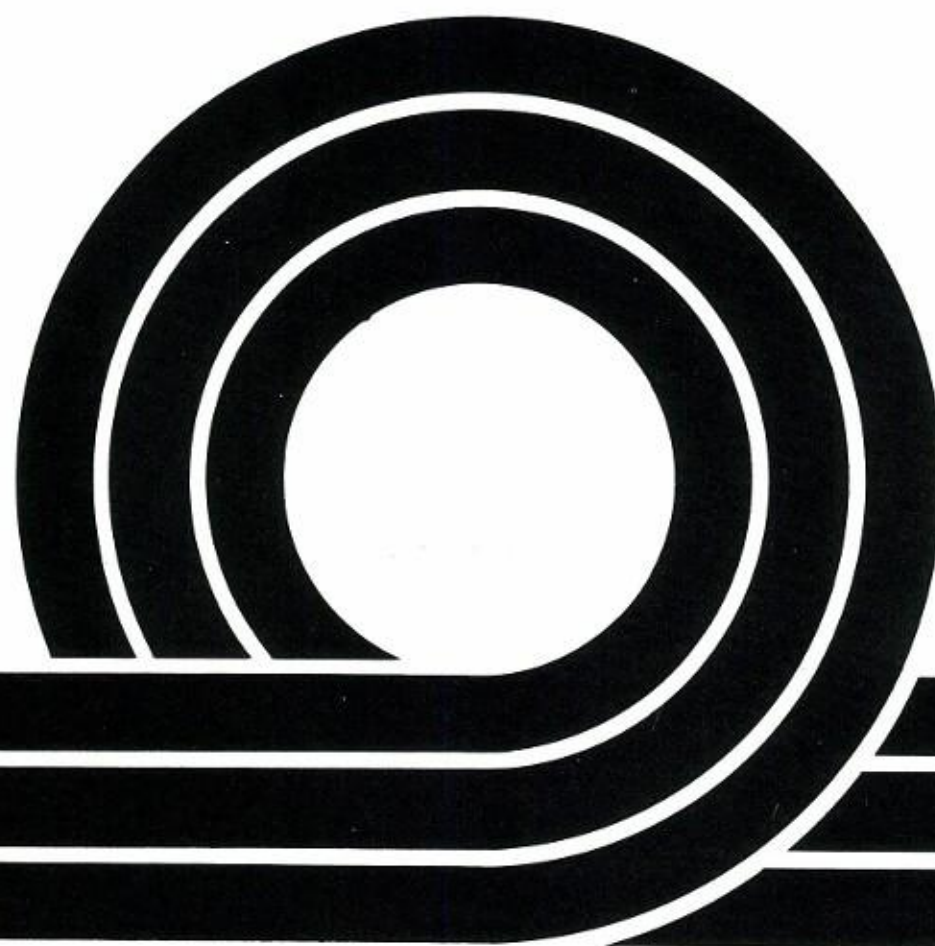

Going into District, Terry Hawthorne, last year's second place district winner had an excellent chance at grabbing first place. Mary Kay Winchell, Boswell girls' number one singles player, also had a great chance of advancement.

Administration Hosts Gym Dedication

The Administration at Boswell changed hands once again this year with the new face of Vice-Principal Weldon Hafley roaming the campus. The evergrowing student body accepted the new face with flying colors and Mr. Hafley, who graduated from Boswell, is now at home again.

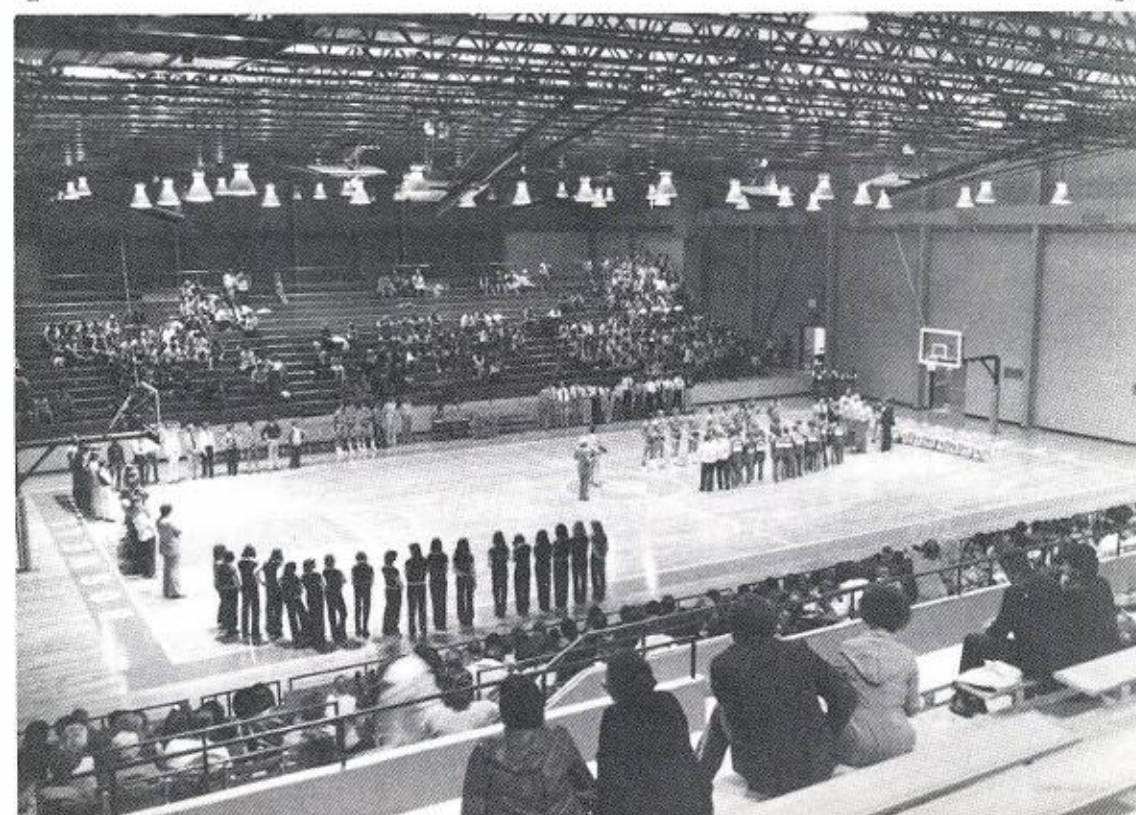

The School Board had a long agenda including setting an April 5 election to fill five empty board places. The board hosted the opening of Boswell's new gymnasium November 27, as well as overseeing the construction of the Boswell Fine Arts Center, Wayside and Gilliland physical education facilities, and Saginaw and Eagle Mountain Elementaries' classrooms.

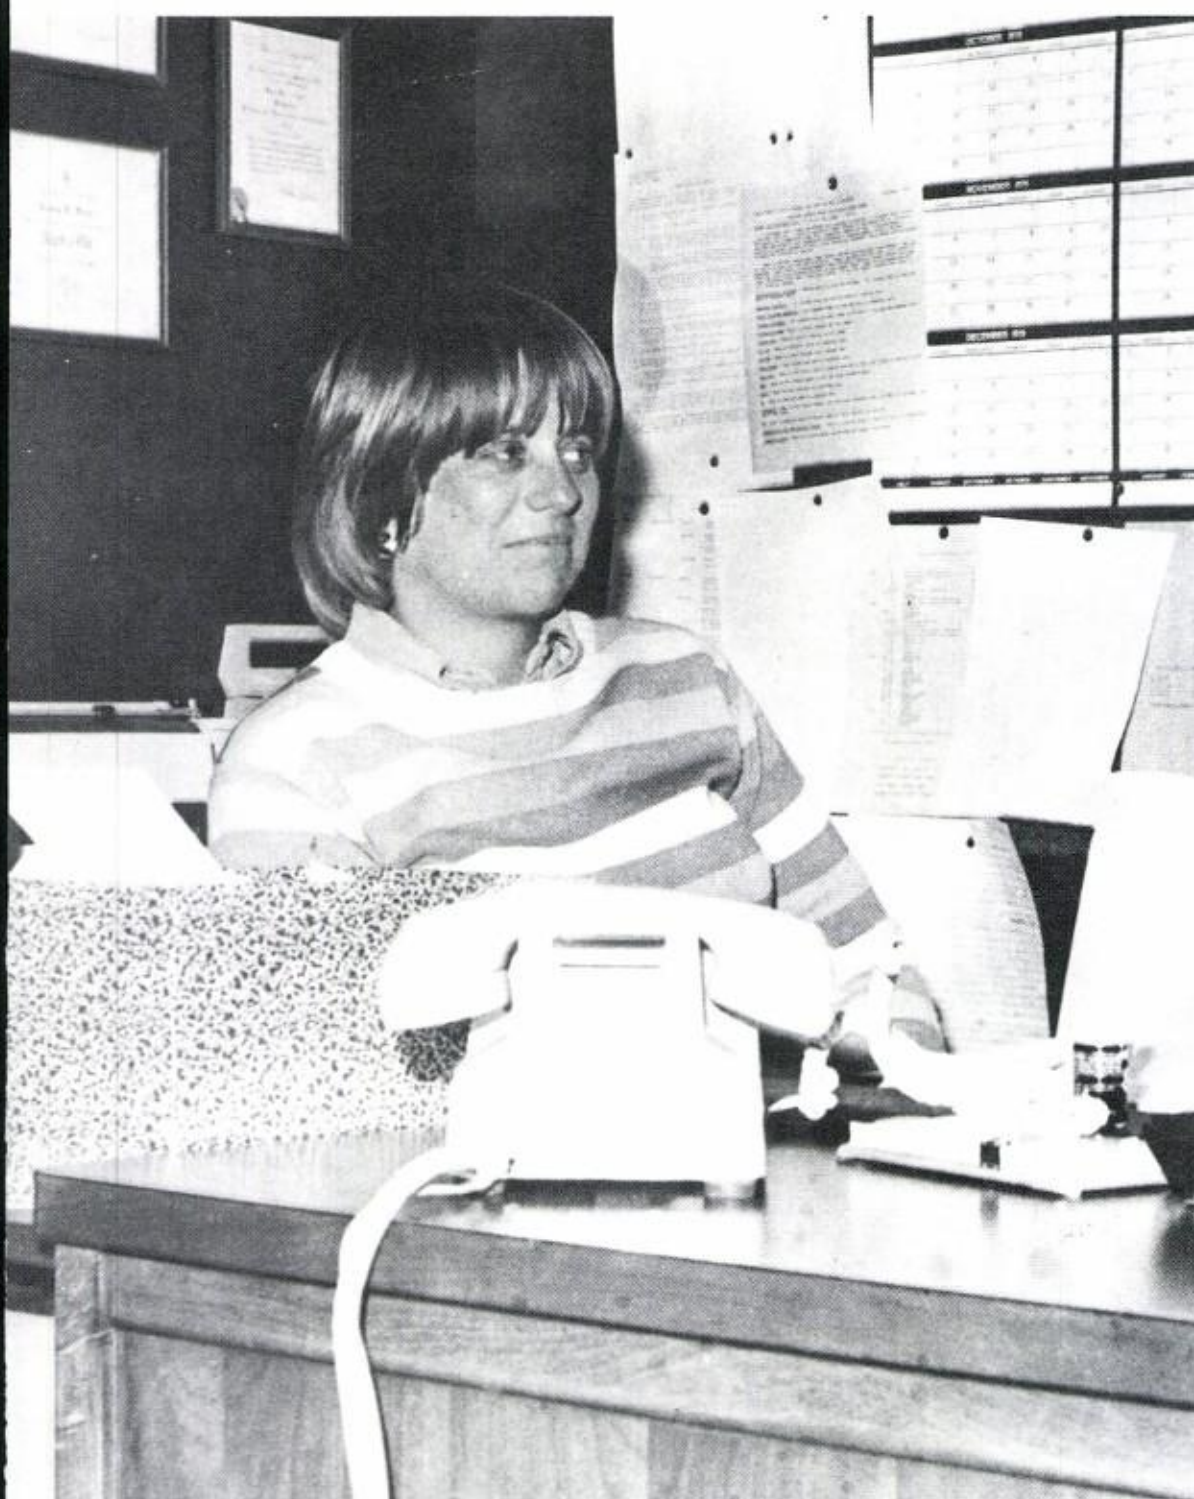

The board continued their annual meetings every month to discuss new buildings and regular policies. Although they had many tasks to complete, the board members continued to achieve their goals and help to further better education throughout the district.

CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Closing

Pioneers continued to go on and on throughout the year to take the next step towards new goals and achievements. From the first day of school, we knew that 1980 would be a year of successes and failures.

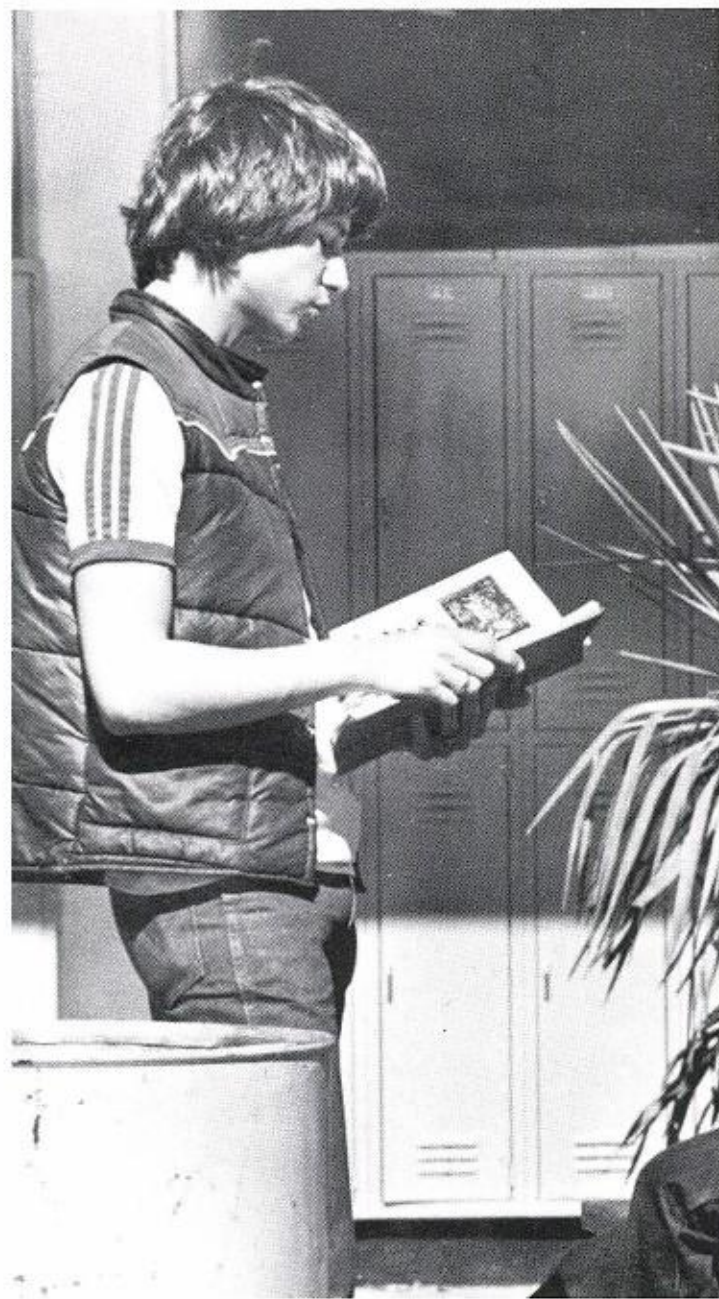

Through the exams, sports, and activities at Boswell, we realized that Pioneers are a special breed, individual, yet able to pull together when the school year was most trying.

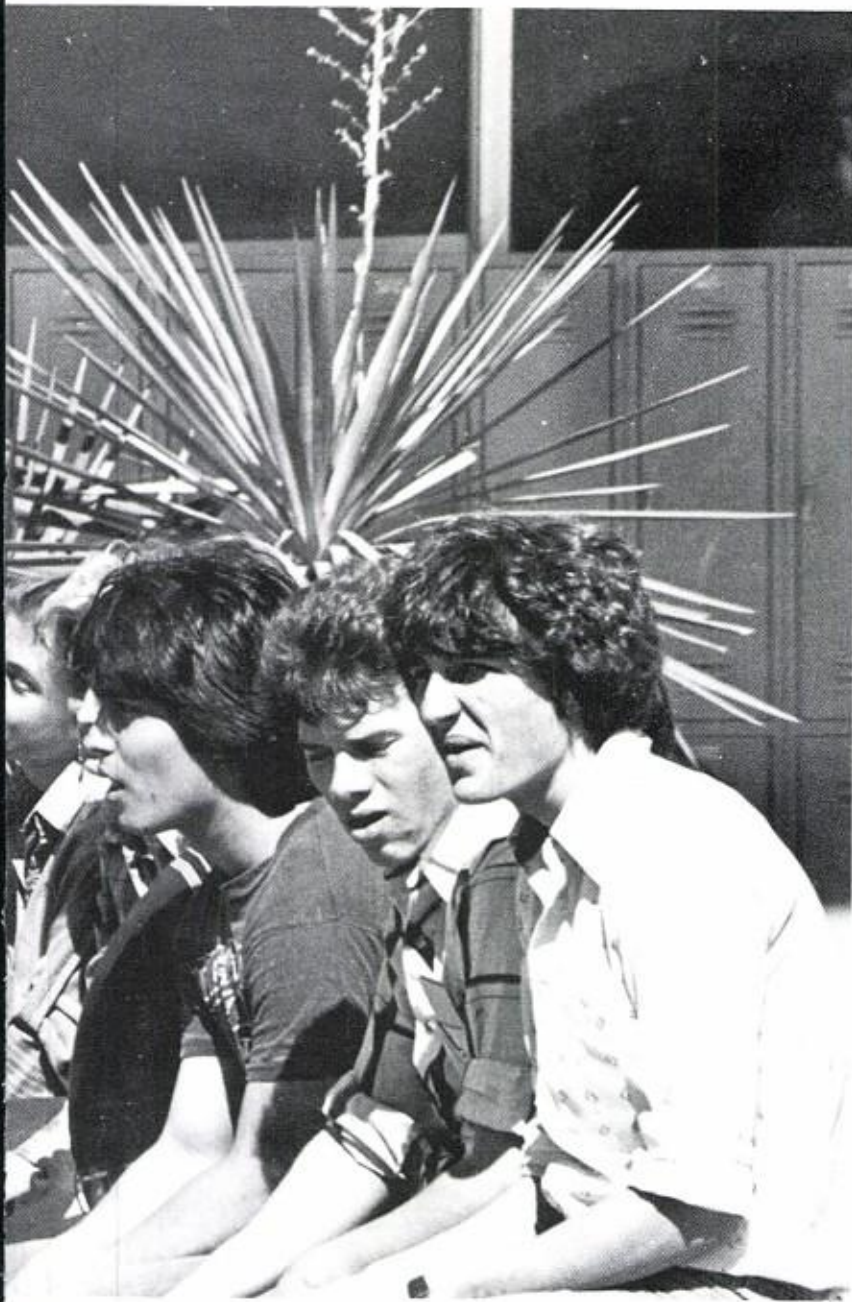

We learned and grew, together.

We played and made friends together, sharing our experiences with one another. And as these nine months came to a close, the memories came flooding back to the seniors as graduation neared, and to the underclassmen as they realized their time would come. Here, a search began for a guiding star to lead us in the years to come and to assure us that there would be hope for tomorrow.

And there was the Pioneer spirit that could never die, it would go on and on, like the memories of 1979 and 80 that will never be forgotten.

a) Junior Denise Danko works hard getting her project ready for the Boswell Science Fair in February. b) Junior Kyle Sayers carefully recites to his fellow classmates during lunch period. c) Senior Janet Fulkerson and Sophomore Amy Williams enjoy their lunch period with a laugh. d) Debby Forrest seems to be "up in the air" when it comes to Grady Ezell. e) Senior Karla Thome and Junior Jodi Barton add a smile to a rainy day.

The Prom—"A Time for Us"

The 1980 Junior-Senior prom was "A Time for Us", that the seniors of 1980 will never forget. The intimate atmosphere set off in the Lakeview Room of T.C.J.C. NW campus was illuminated with candelabra, an archway, and dim lights. The greenery and flowers added that special effect the prom had on everyone.

The old tradition of the reading of wills and prophecies was ended and a new one began. An elegant archway was set up and as seniors and their escorts walked underneath, there was a "little something" said about each senior that their teachers wrote about them.

Another major attraction that got everyone in the dancing mood was a live band. "Essence", who had played at previous assemblies at Boswell, played variety of rock music as everyone "jammed", in their formal attire, on the dance floor.

Sadie Hawkins

The sight of class members carrying around a huge jar of money, constantly begging for more contributions told everyone that Sadie Hawkins Day was near.

This was the time of the school year when the girl got to do the asking for dates for a change, and each class suddenly united into a huge team competing in a field day fun on a hot, sunny day.

The crazy events that took place were all in good fun, including a pie-eating contest, cracker eating-whistle blowing contest, wheelbarrow and sack races, egg toss and many more. Points were awarded to the best-dressed boy and girl according to their classes. The contest, which was an addition this year to the fun, brought out a crazy assortment of clothes for the day as students nominated classmates from their second period to compete.

Points were scored by each class as the events took place. The final grand total of all points scored by each class ended with the senior class the overall winners, with the sophomores, juniors and freshmen finishing in that order.

Sluggers Swing to 6-8 District Record

The Pioneers came through the 1980 season with an overall record of 8-15-1. This, however, wasn't really a disappointing season as it was one of rebuilding.

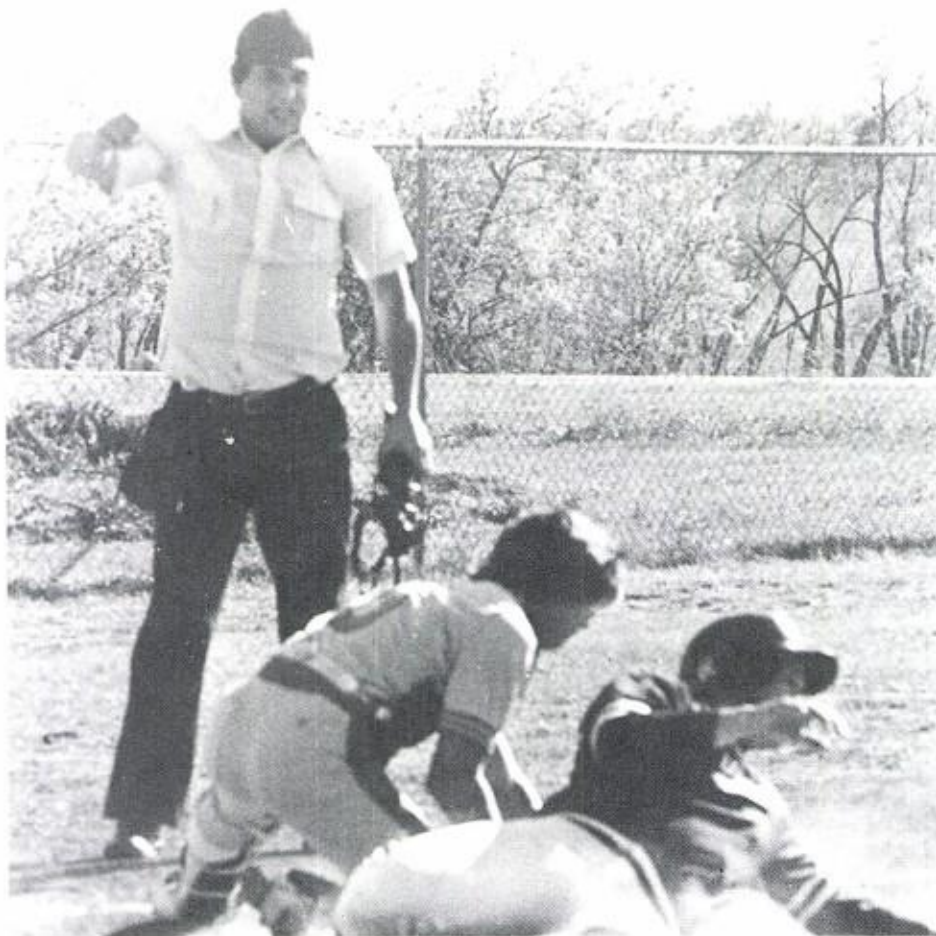

Highlights of the year included the 4-0 victory over archrival Diamond Hill in the next to last district game. The Pioneers finished district play with a record of 6-8.

Leading the Pioneers in batting this year was junior shortstop Kurt Thome. Thome had a .359 average and 14 total hits. He also led the team with 10 stolen bases.

Senior pitcher-infielder Marty Ezell and senior pitcher-outfielder Danny Pemberton both had 12 total hits and .300 batting averages. Senior outfielder J.J. Mori had a .260 average and eight stolen bases.

Senior outfield Steve Stallings led the Pioneers with the fewest errors with three. First baseman Tom Gardner, a junior, had a fielding percentage of .941 and Stallings had a .924 fielding percentage.

Ezell led Boswell pitchers with a 3-3 record in district with 23 strikeouts and an earned run average of 2.93. Pemberton had a record of 2-3 with 24 strikeouts and an ERA of 2.19. Senior Kelly Bailey had an 0-2 record with a 3.00 ERA.

Rhodes, Montgomery Qualify for Regional

Boswell tracksters had a superb year; although the team was young, they still proved to be strong at many meets.

During their first outing, the young cindermen came home with two first place trophies at Brewer. Although at the end of the year the team finished fifth in district, they still sent two runners to regionals. Senior Everett Rhodes placed second in district in the mile and junior Kirk Montgomery advanced in the 120 yard and the 330 yard hurdles, in which he placed second in both events. At regionals Rhodes finished with a fourth and Montgomery with an eighth and a fifth in the hurdles.

Tracksters placing consistently high were Rhodes, Roger Corbin, Marshall Woolsey, Montgomery, Tom Petrushka, and Brad Shaw.

The freshman team took a first in their competition in district, making a tremendous showing at the meet at Azle.

Five Speedsters Run to Regionals

This year's girl tracksters once again proved to be outstanding in their performances at their track meets. Five of the track members, juniors Dayne Henson, Karen Lomerson, Melanie Davis, sophomore Terri Tate, and freshman Melanie Glover excelled in their events, and placed in the district track meet, which advanced them to regionals.

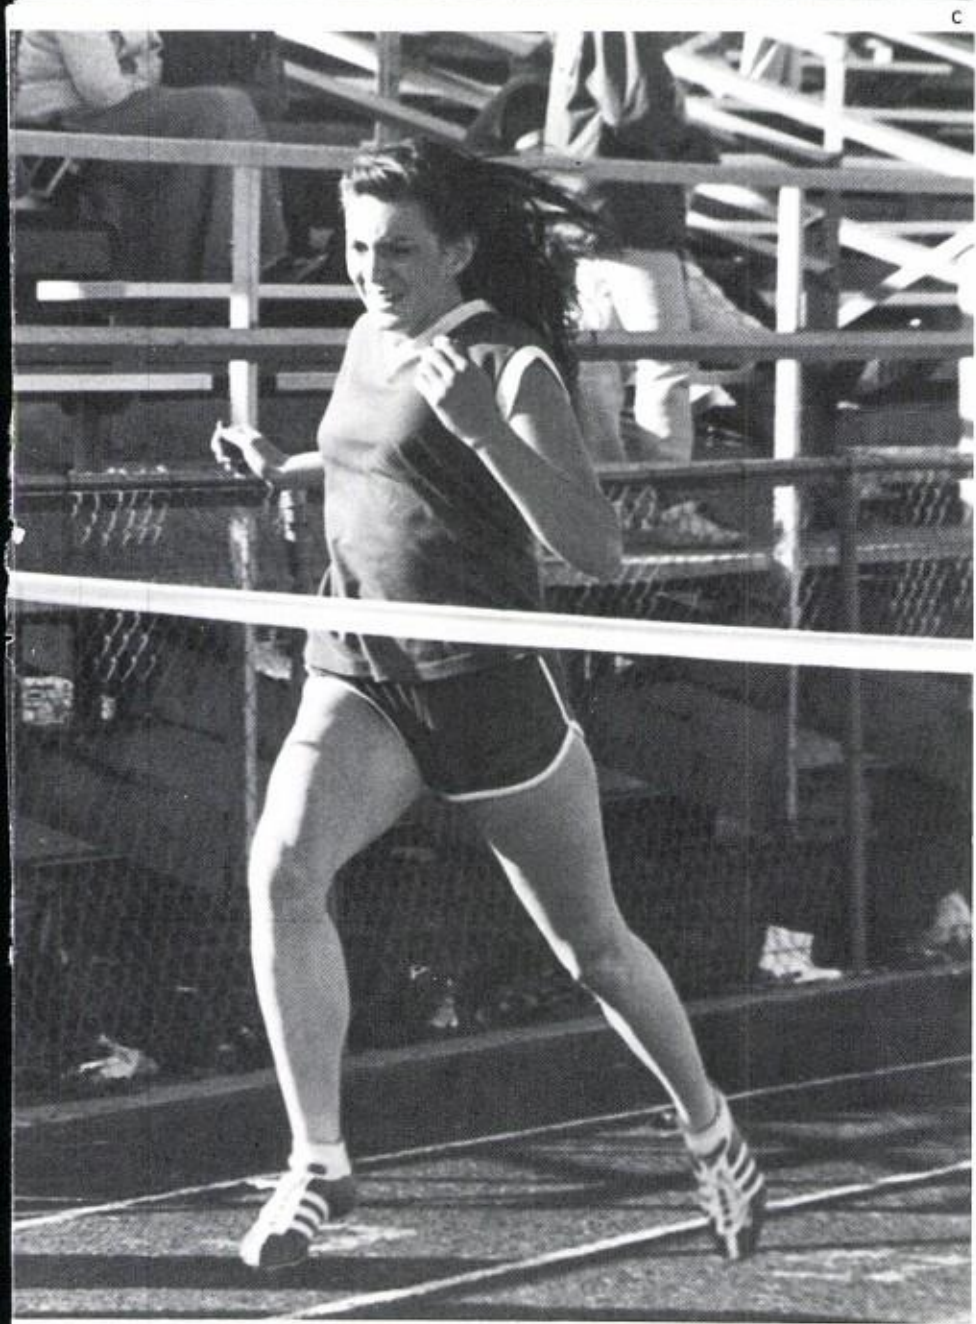

The runners topped off a good year with the girls placing in the top six at district. The district meet found Henson first in the 220 and second in the 100 yard dash, Lomerson second in the 440, Tate second in the shot put, and Glover second in the high jump to qualify for regional.

Henson received third in the 220 yard dash at regionals and Lomerson sixth in the 440 yard dash to close out the season.

The girls placed third in the Fort Worth Women Coaches' Association Track Meet, and fourth in the Poly Relays, and sixth in the Newman Smith Invitationals. The team then finished out the season by placing fourth at the district track meet.

Boys Win District; Fowler Gets State Fourth

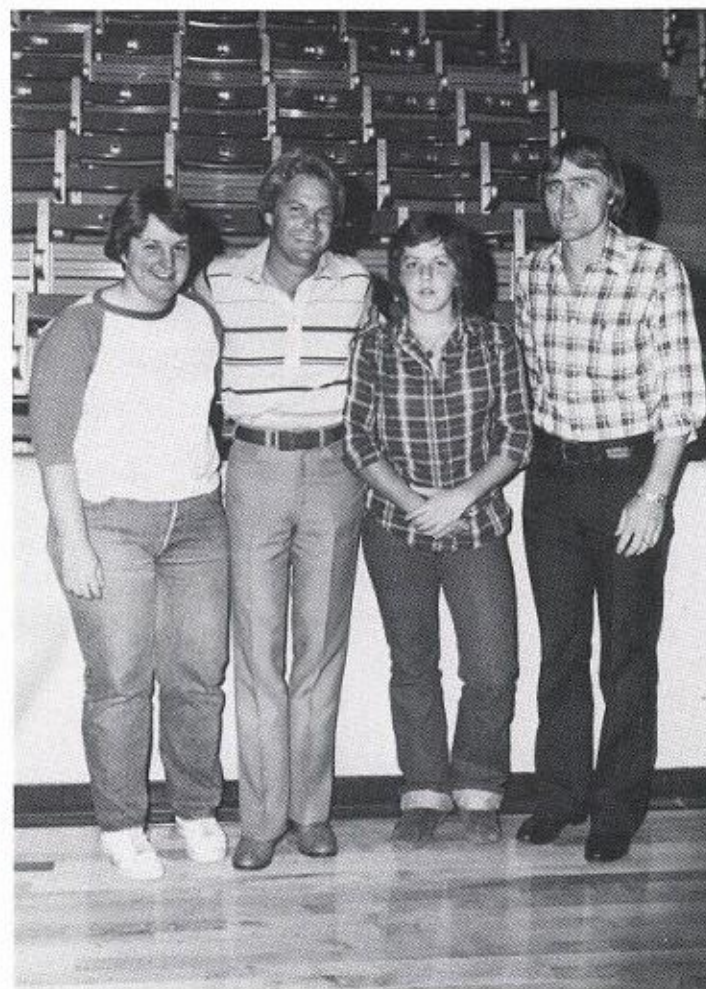

The Boswell boys golf team captured the district championship by 59 strokes and went on to finish sixth at district this year, while girls' golfer Tracee Fowler made her third trip to state and finished fourth to round out the golf season.

Senior Reed Bogue was medalist for the boys at district, with teammates Mark Gannon and Mike Crisco falling in at second and third. The team beat Azle to take the 3A-5 title with a total score of 659 in the two-day tourney.

Tracee won district on the Pecan Plantation and Rockwood courses and then advanced to take first place at TWU in regional play.

Margie Curtis was the only other girls' golfer who competed. The girls played at Richardson Berkner and Plano, where Fowler placed second, and at Everman, Keller, and Decatur the state qualifier took firsts.

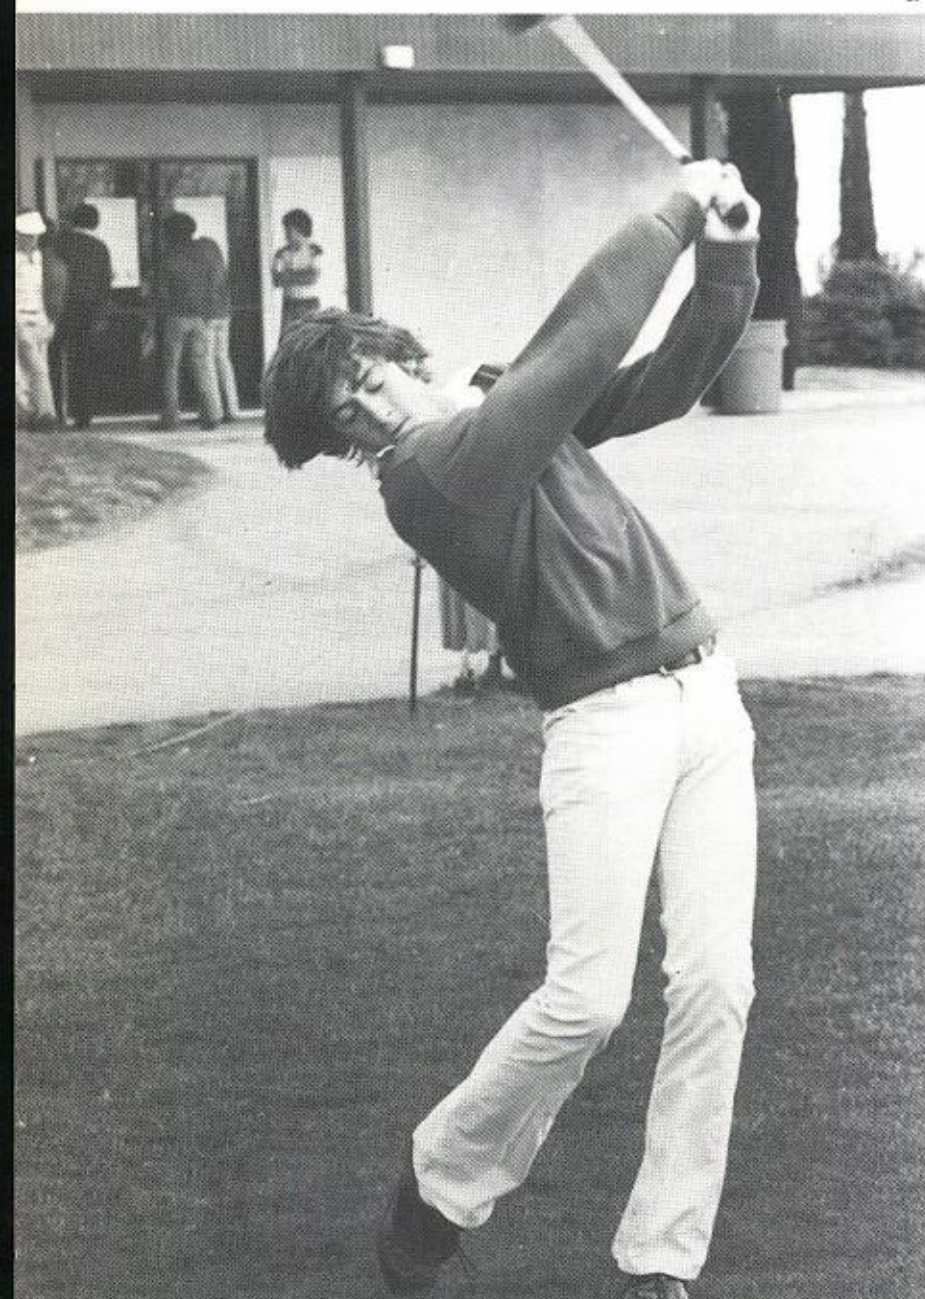

The boys' team played in Denton, Plano, and Ardmore, Okla., prior to the district tournament. They also competed at Pecan Plantation, Joshua, and Bridgeport, where they finished second, third, and fourth, respectively.

Price, Allen Lead Seniors to Graduation

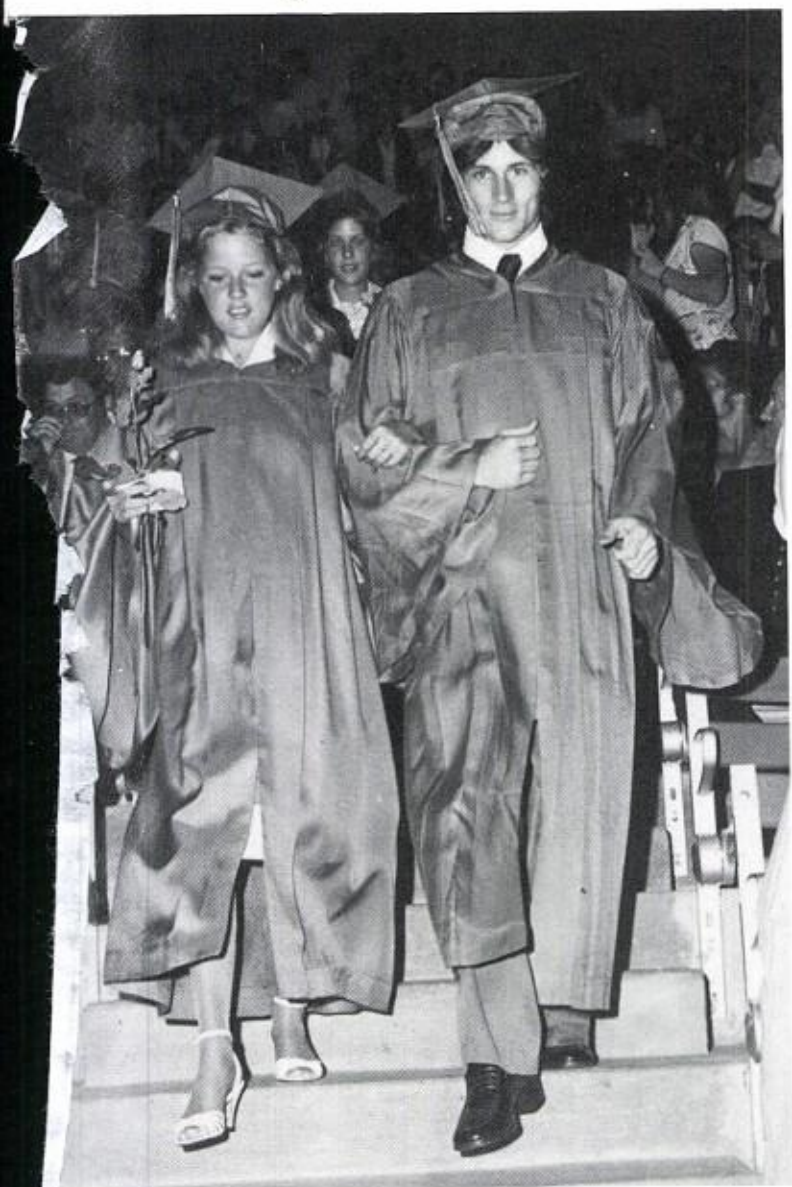

The 219 graduating seniors of 1980 were the first to have baccalaureate and graduation exercises in Boswell's new gymnasium. As the seniors had practice and enjoyed a luncheon on the morning of graduation, they began to realize they were edging closer to what they had waited for for 12 years. Leading the class was Valedictorian Denisha Price and Salutatorian Robert Allen. The senior class officers presided at the ceremonies by giving the invocation, Pledge of Allegiance and making other introductions. The speaker was James Rurak, professor of religion from Texas Christian University.

As always, graduation was the end and a beginning of a new era for a very special group of people. It was the end of tardy bells, the end of quarters and tests, detention hall and the end of a way of life.

Now, some will see the world, some will be introduced to the experiences of college and others will face the prospects and rewards of working and developing skills to last for a lifetime.

Although the seniors were graduating into a new phase of life, there would be the memories of Boswell High School that they would never forget.

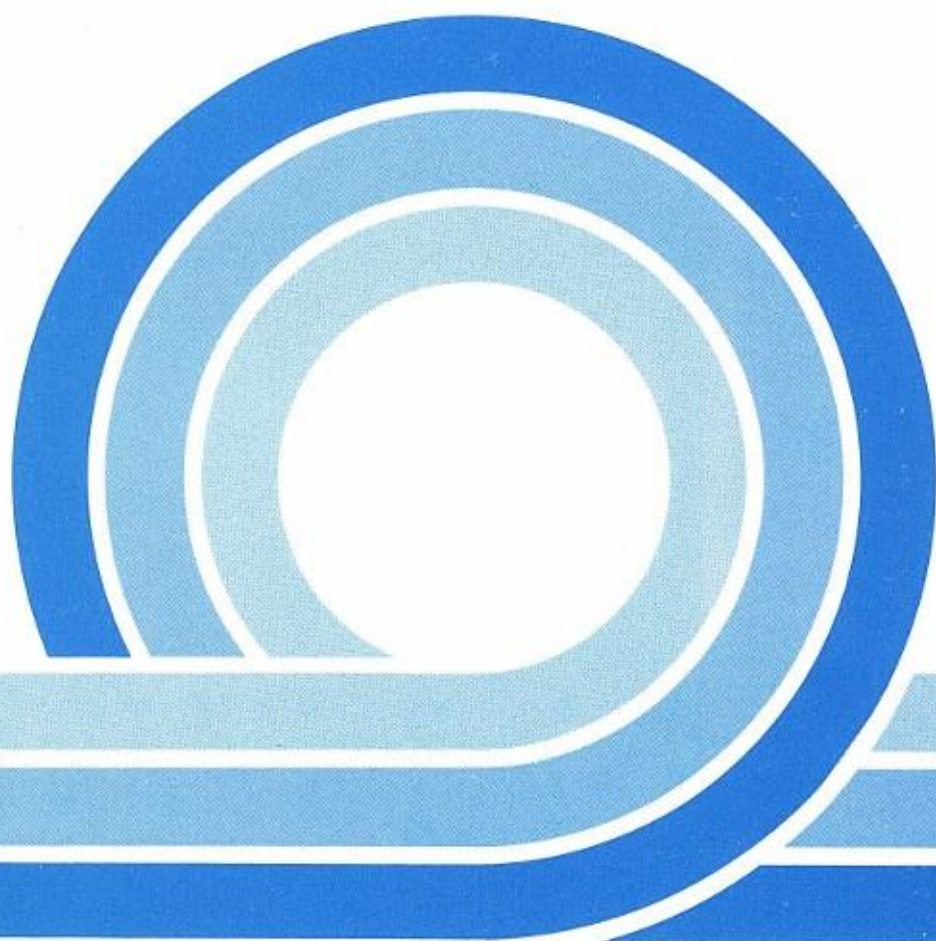

a) Senior David Lang presented a stirring rendition of the 'Star Spangled Banner' for commencement exercises. b) Graduates waiting for their last formal program at Boswell to be over. c) A congratulation from Principal Burt Weems is in store for Salutatorian Bob Allen after receiving his diploma. d) Greg Ingram faces the flag during the Pledge of Allegiance. e) Senior class president Debbie Wagner introduces the class of 1980. f) Laura Wright and Roger Corbin walk together toward their graduation. g) Becky Brooks entertains the crowd as she sings, 'Climb Every Mountain'. h) Valedictorian Denisha Price address her graduating classmates.

technical work went to Donna Shriner, outstanding supporting roles went to Kim Davis and David Krause . . . Brad Stiles was named outstanding freshman and the outstanding underclassman award went to Gary Harlow . . . Betsy Szlasa was named outstanding senior . . . Other awards were best actor—Ricky Pope, runner-up—Eddie Smith; best actress—Betsy Szlasa, runner-up—Lori Morlock . . . and super troupers of the year were Mark Parker and David Morton

In journalism, winning spots as alternates to the state meet were Sheri Means, Betsy Szlasa and Theresa Bicknell in news, feature and headline writing

The year ended with many memorable moments for students. Times to be cherished, but most of all memories that will go on and on, as do Pioneers.

Launa, It's really been fun having you in a class. This has been the first year that we have had a class together since we've been in school and it has been nice. Maybe I'll get my steps back by the end of the year. Ha! Ha!
Good Luck.
Bug'ging Samboles

Launa, it has been fun having you in class this year.
However I don't think you enjoyed it. And all that other B.S. that people write in these memory books. I would say: It has been nice knowing you. But I hope to see you again.

Dave Marshall

Jauma,
It's really been great getting to know you this year.
But I'm sure glad this is all over! Hope we can somehow stay in touch. Good luck with everything you do!

Love Ya!
Susan Bishop
